RAILROAD PRESIDENTS MASTERS OF STRIKE FATE

Executives' Reply Expected to Be Final Answer to Wilson's Appeal to Prevent Tie-Up of Nation's Railway Systems

FINANCIERS READY TO BARTER FOR ADVANTAGES

Secret Conference Held in Washington to Decide Upon Future Stand to Be Taken; Settlement Is Believed Near

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The question of strike or no strike is in the hands of the railway presidents. A limited number of the heads of the country's biggest systems had taken charge of the situation over night.

Their answer, it appeared, was to be the final answer to President Wilson's proposal and personal appeal for prevention of the most paralyzing transportation tie-up in the history of the nation. They were to meet, one way or the other, the President's declaration that the country's industrial future rested in their hands.

In a secret conference at the Metropolitan Club last night a few men, representing 100,000 miles of track and $2,000,000,000 of capital, determined on a course of action.

They were to place it before their fellow executives for ratification at a conference today. Opinion prevails that a peaceful adjustment of the threatened commerce crisis would be effected.

WILLING TO BARTER.
The roads are dying hard, however. They will not yield, it was declared today, unless they can trade with the President and gain some offsetting advantages, some "adequate compensation" for accepting what they regard as a "revolutionary change" in the eight-hour day. But the very fact that many of the small road chiefs, as well as a number of the foremost railroad executives, have reached the stage where they are willing to talk "trades" indicates the President has stirred up what he termed "the immobile opinion" of the railroad powers.

Throughout the night telegrams kept pouring into the headquarters of the executives and managers—appeals from merchants and manufacturing organizations in all the big cities of the country—urging the chiefs to stand out on arbitration.

'War Babies' in Wild Advances Public Jumps Suddenly Into Bull Market

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The public jumped into the bull market on the stock exchange today to an extent not noted since the wild advances of the war babies several months ago, and United States Steel again set a record, selling at 96 1/2, while advances of 1 to 12 points were made elsewhere.

Commission houses were swamped under orders and sales for the opening hour were nearly 400,000 shares. Approximately one-quarter of this trading was in Steel common, the barometer of the market.

Railroad stocks joined in the upward movement, though their gains were not so marked as were advances in steel and equipment stocks. Bethlehem Steel again held attention, with a jump of 12 1/2 to 140.

F. M. SMITH DOCK LEASE IS ISSUE AT CITY POLLS

Oakland voters are today engaging in a war of ballots to determine whether or not the city charter shall be amended in such a manner as to permit F. M. Smith and his associates to take a ninety-nine-year lease on the western waterfront of the city. Both sides this morning predicted victory.

Light vote is being cast. Indications are that more than a 25 per cent vote will be cast throughout the day. In the district east of Lake Merritt the voting was reported unusually light at noon today. A slightly heavier vote is being cast in the West Oakland district, where the residents are said to favor the lease proposition.

The polls will remain open until 7 o'clock this evening.

The proposition being voted on today was made by Smith, Rufus P. Jennings and Dr. Clarence E. Edmonds, who represent certain interests, as yet unnamed, who will spend between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 on the development of the western waterfront within the next six years if a majority of affirmative votes are cast today. These three men have not divulged the names of their backers, but they say they are New York men.

The project will take 268 acres of the submerged lands on the Key Route basin, on the agreement to expend $1,500,000 in dredging the bay, filling the land behind the pier-head line and constructing wharves and terminal facilities. They agree, further, to spend $3,500,000 in the construction of warehouses and factories on the newly-made land. All improvements are to revert to the city at the end of the ninety-nine-year period.

RESPONSIBLE FOR ELECTION.
The cost of today's election is to be paid by the proponents of the lease project, Smith having deposited a $15,000 bond with City Clerk L. W. Cummings to guarantee the payment of all expenses connected with the polling of the people's wishes in the matter.

JAIL WIDOW OF SAVANT FOR THEFT

Secretary-Cashier to Money Broker Arrested on Charge of Depositing Check for $600 Said Not to Be Hers

Woman Believed to Be of Well-Known Family; Prisoner Says Charge Is Case of Persecution by Her Former Employer

Mrs. Lida B. Simpson, widow of a Stanford professor and member of a well-known and prominent family, is under arrest in the Oakland city prison, charged with grand larceny by James H. Edelen, a money broker and manufacturer of 1828 Seventh street, her former employer. Edelen charged the woman with having banked him out of $600 in a bank-check operation.

Mrs. Simpson, who has thus far refused to make a statement regarding her arrest and the circumstances surrounding it, was arrested before Police Judge Mortimer Smith today, and her preliminary examination set for Thursday, August 31. She told the police this morning that she was "persecuted," but refused to discuss her case further.

Her son, Donald W. Simpson, 19 years old, is on his way to Oakland from the southern part of the state and is expected to arrive here tomorrow. Mrs. Simpson telegraphed to him immediately after her arrest at Fifteenth street and Broadway last night. Miss Elizabeth Simpson, 3327 Cedar street, Berkeley, high official of the Alameda County Music Teachers' Association, and one of the best known musicians in this part of the state, is a sister-in-law of the imprisoned woman. She visited her in her cell today, but refused to discuss the case, declaring that she knew nothing of it.

RECOGNIZED ON STREET.
Mrs. Simpson was arrested while walking south on Broadway last evening. She had been seen by Mrs. Evelyn Edelen, wife of the prisoner's witness, who was on a passing street car. The police had been seeking the woman since August 9. Mrs. Edelen recognized Mrs. Simpson and called her husband's attention to her. Edelen rushed into a nearby garage and telephoned Richard McSorley, placed Mrs. Simpson under arrest. The arrest is based on a grand larceny charge issued on Edelen's statement that the woman deposited to him a check for $600, to which his name was attached. Edelen declares, however, that he did not write in the amount. "The check, he says, is evidently one of a number of blank checks which he gave Mrs. Simpson to use while he was out of the city when she was in his employ as confidential secretary, bookkeeper and cashier."

OLD CHECK WAS USED.
This, it is alleged, was two years ago. The check bears the date of July 1 of this year, and was deposited to Mrs. Simpson's account on July 7, 1916. The police say that erasures on the check are evident, and declare that a previous date, the name of the payee and the endorsement on the back had been eradicated.

The check as it now is bears the name of Arthur W. Shaw as payee. Edelen makes the allegation that he discharged Mrs. Simpson in May, 1914, and she had been in his employ for more than five years, he says, and he discovered she had taken between $600 and $700 belonging to him. He said:

She left the city at that time, visiting a sister in Ashland, Ore. I was then in the city and had her picture taken. She took the picture with me, and I agreed not to prosecute on her promise to pay me back. She held my note for $300, and this she turned over to me. In May, 1914, she gave me a check for $100, that she has since given me $100 in part payment of the balance.

MONEY TO BUY HOME.
August 8 I received a statement from my bank, showing that this $600 had been cashed. I then turned the matter over to the police. I told them that Mrs. Simpson was purchasing a home at 3439 Brighton avenue, where she now lives. I suppose some of my money went to the purchase of this home.

While she was in my employ I trusted Mrs. Simpson implicitly. She is a woman of refinement and culture and I did not look at her books during the time she had charge of them until I discovered her pecuniary habits. I often had occasion to leave the city on business trips. On those occasions I left signed blank checks with Mrs. Simpson to make certain necessary payments during my absence. I believe she must have saved one of these blank checks after leaving my employ, holding it for two years, and then writing in this $600, changing the date and depositing it to her own account.

SEA YIELDS MAN THOUGHT ITS VICTIM

Swimmer Whose Clothing Found Near Land's End, Caused Wife to Think Him Dead, Saved Off Farallones

Rescue Comes After Man Held Spar in Ocean for 32 Hours; Revived and Taken North, Where Sailors Give Him Coin

While his wife and two children were mourning him for dead on the mute evidence of his clothing found lying on the beach, Clarence P. Peacock, a mechanic of 317 Clementia street, was clinging to a spar in the Pacific ocean a week ago undergoing in actual experience an ordeal that challenges the imaginative work of Joseph Conrad or Robert Louis Stevenson.

Caught in the undertow off Land's End on August 12, Peacock managed to cling to a slippery timber that drifted his way and was carried out to sea. Picnickers on the coast failed to heed his gesticulations or shouts for help. After thirty-two hours of tossing at the mercy of waves and wind, he was picked up off the Farallone islands by a Swedish sailing vessel. Numb and chilled from the long exposure, his cramped limbs clung so desperately to the spar that it was necessary for the rescuers literally to pry him loose.

WEAKENED BY DIFFICULTY.
Weakened by his terrible experience, Peacock was unable to take nourishment, except a small quantity of gruel, until his arrival in Seattle on Thursday. The sailors worked over him, rubbed his blue body, restored the circulation and brought him safely back to life and strength. When he landed at Seattle they made up a purse of $13.50 that he might journey quickly to San Francisco and rejoin his family.

In the meantime his wife and two little girls, aged 12 and 10, had given him up for dead. Peacock's clothing was found on the beach by Albert Smith, 44 Twenty-seventh avenue, and turned over to the police. Mrs. Peacock called at police headquarters, identified the garments and the undertow victim. She was taken home in a taxi to tell the sad news to her little ones.

Peacock, who is 29 years old and a mechanic by trade, has recently been employed in a cafeteria in the hotel business. He says he was out on a boat advance of his day's work to go to Baker's beach for a swim. Getting beyond his depth in the breakers, he was seized by the undertow and dragged under the water. By the time he succeeded in struggling to the surface, he was holding on to the spar, and being carried westward by the racing tide-rip. Fortunately he caught sight of a floating spar, to which he clung with arms and legs.

LOSE HOPE OF RESCUE.
He waved desperately to the few picnickers who were on the shore, but they did not see his predicament. Several steamers and a number of smaller fishing craft passed just out of hailing distance and he gave up hope of rescue. Night came and still he clung to his spar with the instinct of self-preservation. He was drifting westward by the racing tide-rip. Fortunately he caught sight of a floating spar, to which he clung with arms and legs.

WAS TERRIBLE ORDEAL.
I do not even know the name of the ship. It was a Swedish name and the ship had come around the Horn en route for Seattle. I could not understand much of the speech of the captain and the sailors, but they were awfully good to me. I did not suffer any pain, but I was terribly weak and I had no desire for food. They forced me to swallow hot water, sips of whiskey and spoonfuls of gruel. They rubbed me until my body regained feeling and did everything they could for me.

Those thirty-two hours in the water seemed like a year to me. If I had not kept myself in training during the last year while I was employed indoors, I would have been able to cling to the spar in comfort. My body was bruised and torn and I have the blue marks of the water on me yet.

Allies Are Massing in Balkans Russ Troops Land at Saloniki

ATHENS, Aug. 22.—Russian troops have landed at Salonika to join in the allied offensive. Despatches from Saloniki today reported that allied transports arrived with the Russians as the first Italian contingent was disembarking.

For the first time since the beginning of the war the troops of six allied nations will be fighting side by side. Serbians, Montenegrins, French and British are already engaged on the Balkan front and the Italians and Russians probably will be seen in action within a short time.

Earlier in the war landing parties of Russian and Italian marines co-operated with Anglo-French infantry in occupying a small Greek fort near Saloniki.

The arrival of the Russians has created a profound impression here. Even the Royalists, who have consistently opposed participation in the war by Greece on the side of the entente allies, seemed almost stunned by the news that Russian troops had arrived to take part in the campaign which, under other conditions, might have been taken by the Greek army.

The general feeling here is that the bringing of Russian troops has dispelled definitely the dream of a greater Greece, which was conceived a year and a half ago by the then premier, Venizelos, who carried Greece well on the way toward entrance in the war with the entente allies.

In some quarters irritation is displayed at the recent foreign policy of the Greek government, which is said to have overlooked the interests of this nation.

PARIS, Aug. 22.—The Italian contingent of troops landing at Saloniki is of really important proportions, according to information received here. In addition, the Temps, in its review of the military situation today, includes to the presence of Russian troops along the Vardar river, which, if confirmed, would make five allied contingents engaged in the entente campaign in the Balkans.

The announcement of the landing of Italian troops at Saloniki is regarded here as deeply significant, indicating an important reinforcement of the already large army of the entente allies composed mainly of French, British and Serbian troops.

The Italian movement also is construed as showing that comprehensive political agreements have been arranged in advance, as hitherto it was understood Italy withheld from participation in the Balkan campaign out of consideration for Greek sensibilities over the predominance of their influence in the eastern Mediterranean.

The participation of the Italians in the Balkan campaign is also considered another evidence of the international spirit prevailing among the allies and is compared to the sending of the Russian contingents to France. By this movement the allies are distributing their effectiveness far beyond their own borders.

BULGARS MAKE BIG GAINS ON NEW FRONT

NEW OPERATIONS IN SOUTH MAKE SUDDEN SHIFT OF PROGRAM TO HOLD RUMANIA NEUTRAL AND STRENGTHEN BATTLE LINE

RESERVES SUMMONED TO HALT INVASION

BERLIN, Aug. 22.—All the Serbian positions on the Mafka Nizze plain, east of Belgrade, on the Macedonian front, have been captured by troops of the central powers, the war office announced today. The French, adds the announcement, have been driven out of Butkova and Talmios.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—Bulgarian troops have advanced twenty-five miles into northwestern Greece in their offensive designed to thwart a great blow by the allies.

In northeastern Greece other strong Bulgarian forces under command of German officers have thrown back the French at a point fifteen miles inside the Greek frontier, capturing the railway town of Demirhisar.

Official statements from the Bulgarian and German offices today reported the capture of four other Greek towns and the taking of other strategic positions.

The troops of six allied nations—France, England, Russia, Italy, Serbia and Montenegro—are now drawn up along the Balkan front as expected for the allied offensive that is expected to drive the Bulgarians out of Serbia.

On the whole front the allies are now attacking the Bulgarian lines, the engagements developing into a series of battles in the center the allies have pressed forward in the Dolna lake region in a preliminary movement toward Strumitza, in southwestern Bulgaria.

CAVALRY REPULSED.
Montenegrin troops are fighting behind the Serbs on the allies' right wing. A small Serbian cavalry detachment repulsed a Bulgarian cavalry attack near Florina on Sunday. Official despatches to the French war office report that the battle is continuing in this region, where the Bulgarians have occupied both Florina and Banica.

On the extreme right the Bulgarians are within a few hours' march of Greek port of Kavala and may have entered the city.

ENTIRE SCHOOL BOARD IN COURT ENTERS PLEA

"Not Guilty," Is Answer to Grand Jury Report on Fees.

Arraigned before Superior Judge O'Connell today, the five members of the Alameda county board of education entered pleas of not guilty to the accusations returned against them by the grand jury, August 9, in which they were alleged to have fraudulently collected pay for meetings of the board alleged not to have been legally held.

George W. Frick, secretary of the board and county superintendent of schools, and Directors C. L. Beldenbach, Paul M. Fisher and William McDonald were represented by Attorney H. C. Chapman, while Miss Genevieve McKeever, the fifth member of the board, was represented by Attorneys Fitzgerald, Abbott and Beardsley.

Judge Ogden continued the case until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, at which time the date of trial will be set.

"We desire a speedy trial; we are galling under the yoke," stated Attorney Chapman. "In behalf of my clients we deny each and every allegation contained in the accusations."

Members of the board appeared in court and the proceedings lasted but a few minutes. It is understood that each defendant will demand a separate trial, with the result that the final determination of the cases will probably not be met for many weeks.

Whether or not the suits will be brought against the members of the board to recover sums collected in the past for special meetings alleged to have been irregularly held is a matter that District Attorney Hynes will determine at the conclusion of the present cases. The outcome of these cases will largely affect the conditions under which the suits would be filed.

District Attorney Hynes contends that more meetings were held than were necessary merely to enable the members of the board to collect $5 for each meeting.

Japanese Deny Canal Aggressions Part of Propaganda to Alarm U. S., They Say

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—At the Japanese embassy it was said today that published reports of alleged Japanese aggressions in the isthmus of Panama for acquisition of a coaling station were only a part of a propaganda to alarm the United States and so ridiculous as to make a statement of denial unnecessary.

NEW COMMITTEE TO AID HUGHES FIGHT

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—A new Republican advisory committee to back after important details of the Hughes campaign was announced by Chairman William C. Clegg this afternoon.

Included among the members are ex-Postmaster General Frank Hitchcock, leader of the Hughes pre-convention campaign, and Raymond Robinson of Illinois, chairman of the Progressive national convention, whom the Democrats made strenuous efforts to lead into the Wilson camp. Other committee members are: John W. Amaker, Philadelphia; Governor Beckman, Rhode Island; ex-Senator Theodore Burton, Ohio; Charles B. Dawes, Chicago, comptroller of the currency under President McKinley; Victor Rosewater, Omaha; A. O. Eberhardt, ex-governor of Minnesota; Charles W. Fulton, ex-Senator from Oregon; William L. Ward, New York, and James Wilson of Iowa, former secretary of agriculture.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—President Wilson today nominated J. C. Anderson as postmaster at Martinez, Cal.

Anderson's nomination comes after James H. Hoyer refused to take the place. Hoyer was nominated a month ago. He issued a statement explaining that ill health would not permit him to accept.

Anderson Named for Martinez P. O.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Every borough in Greater New York reported a slight gain in the epidemic of infantile paralysis today. Health officials, however, said that this increase was to be expected on Tuesday, owing to the over-Sunday delay in obtaining reports. During the twenty-four hours ending at 10 a. m., the plague killed 39 children and 118 were stricken. During the preceding twenty-four hours 33 children died and 92 new cases were reported.

RAIL STRIKE DECISION GROWS NEAR

Executives' Reply Expected to Be Final Answer to Wilson's Appeal to Prevent Tie-Up of Nation's Railway Systems

Secret Conference Held in Washington to Decide Upon Future Stand to Be Taken; Settlement Is Believed Near

with him, the executives must—and will—ask legislation.

In the discussion of "adequate compensation" for yielding the eight-hour day the railroad executives are expected to urge the President to recommend some congressional action to give control of railroad operation. They want the roads placed entirely under federal regulation, eliminating state control.

The executives are now said to be convinced that they can get rate increases from the Interstate Commerce Commission and with this one of their principle objections has been removed.

Talk of violent individual opposition to any general acquiescence to President Wilson's proposal was quieted by Louis W. Hill of the Hill Trust, who stated he had insured against the others.

"I'm in agreement with everybody," he said today.

Incidentally, he and others pressed not to be particularly moved by President Wilson's plea for peace in view of the need for moving crops and general supplies both for this country and foreign nations.

"The crop in our country is very short," Hill said. "They're not even cutting it much less moving it. A strike would freeze us as it would eastern roads. We actually have 4000 or 5000 cars idle. The only lines seriously affected would be those around Pittsburgh, transporting steel and iron."

Alameda Exhibit

May Be Leader

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22.—The mammoth exhibit which is being installed in a special tent near the Agricultural building at the State Fair by Alameda county will be one of the most remarkable features of the annual exposition, which opens on September 2. Placer, Fresno and Yolo counties were considered the leading contenders for the first honors in the county exhibits, but the display from the bay county threatens to eclipse them entirely.

The rivalry between the fruit counties is keen. L. J. Kinney is jealously guarding the installation of the Placer county exhibit, while William Robertson, secretary of the Fresno Chamber of Commerce, is closely watching the big cases containing the features of the raisin county exhibit. H. S. Maddox, secretary of the Yolo county Board of Trade, is a veteran exhibitor and has a surprise in store.

A feature of the county exhibits, to be the finest ever presented in California, will be the display of peaches which were raised specially for the fair by King George V. of England in Sutter county. For many years Sutter county peaches have graced the royal court, but this year they are staying at home because of the shipping difficulties attendant upon the war.

Peas which won the grand award at the Panama-Pacific Exposition are to be displayed in a novel manner by the Nevada county exhibitors. Products of the county will form the major part of the San Joaquin exhibit, being collected under the direction of John P. Irish Jr.

Statement Issued by Railroad Heads Plan of Wilson Threatens Industry

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Elisha Lee, chairman of the National Conference Committee of Railways, has issued a statement in support of the contention of the railway heads that President Wilson is asking them to sacrifice the principle of arbitration. His statement, which was issued on behalf of the managers' conference committee after it had been submitted to the railway executives and approved by them, follows:

That the railroads should grant, under threat of a national strike, a $5,000,000 wage preference to a small minority of their employees without hearing before a public tribunal, is treacherous in a democracy like ours. All questions of wages, hours, costs, operating conditions, these are submerged by the greater issue: Shall arbitration be abandoned for the settlement of industrial disputes?

If we are to throw arbitration into the scrapheap, what hope can there be in America for industrial peace in the future?

A nation-wide strike is unthinkable when the railroads are urged that all matters in dispute be placed before any tribunal constituted by public authority.

NEWLANDS LAW CITED

Arbitration is urged by Congress as a final method for settling controversies as to both hours and wages on the railroads. The Newlands law of 1913 was enacted by unanimous request of the four railroad brotherhoods and the representatives of the railroads. And yet the leaders who urged the law now place the position that a question of hours is beyond arbitration.

But wages, not hours, are involved in these demands. No proposal has been made to establish an eight-hour working day. The demand for an eight-hour pay basis and this is the interpretation given by the president in the proposal now before the railroads. The employees have emphatically made it known that they do not want eight hours' work for eight hours' pay, a real eight-hour day.

SIMPLE ILLUSTRATION

A simple illustration will suffice to show how the eight-hour basis of pay would work out. Take, for example, a freight employee paid $5 a mile with a day's guarantee for 55 for 10 miles or ten hours or less. It is proposed to make this guarantee the same for eight hours or less. On a freight run of, say, only sixty miles in ten hours, he earns $5 for his time. It is now proposed that for this work he be paid $5 for the first eight hours and $1.25 for the other two hours, a total of $6.25, increasing his pay 25 per cent.

If, by reason of traffic delays, he is held idle on a sidetrack, so that he does not complete his trip until the end of twelve hours, he now is paid $5 for his time, no matter how little work he performs. The demand is to pay him $7.50 for this twelve-hour service.

Meanwhile the employees would continue to have the same opportunities as now to make still larger gains on the night basis. For example, the man on a five-cent-a-mile rate, making, say, 150 miles in only seven hours, earns $7.50 for his day's work. If after this he is called for a short period of emergency work, say one hour, he gets another full day's guarantee of $5, making $12.50 in this example, for nine hours' service.

PAY IS DECLARED HIGH

Many other schedule provisions increase the wage of these well paid men without increase in their hours of service. It is because of these opportunities to take pay under volume or arbitrary rules that their yearly earnings are so far beyond those of other workers charged with no less responsible duties.

The proposal from the president now before the railroad is:

1.—To adopt the 8-hour day "as a basis for wages, even where the actual work to be done cannot be completed within eight hours," to quote the president's words.

2.—To increase the hourly rate of pay 25 per cent.

RESULT OF ACCEPTANCE

The result of the acceptance of this proposal would be:

1.—No change in the length of the train work day.

2.—An increase in wages of more than $5,000,000 a year, to about four-fifths of the train employees or less than one-seventh of all railroad employees. In other words, an unfair wage preference would be granted without investigation and under threat of a national strike to one man in seven in the railroad service.

If these wage demands are just in whole or in part, then a public tribunal appointed by the president, as we have urged, would speedily so determine.

The weight of public opinion must determine this issue. We cannot believe that it is the calm judgment of the country that we should sacrifice the principle of arbitration in industrial disputes, under a threat to the commerce of the country.

Italian King Under Gunfire

Victor Emanuel Visits Front at Gorizia

UDINE, Italy, Aug. 22.—King Victor Emmanuel visited Gorizia today, under the fire of the Austrians. Lucio Bridge, which he crossed to enter the city, continues to be the object of relentless shelling by the Austrian guns, but, unimpaired of the danger, the king determined to make a personal visit to the captured city.

The king went to the city hall, where he inquired regarding the measures which have been taken to restore the civil life of the city. Girls working in the vicinity earlier than the front bodies to have uncovered a manifestation which was interspersed with shouts of "Long live our King; long live Italy!" News of the royal visit spread throughout the city and there was a demonstration as the king's automobile passed through the streets.

Masons to Witness

French Lodge Work

Local Masons will journey across the bay Saturday evening to witness a ceremony unique in the inner workings of the order, when La Parlati Lodge, No. 17, will confer the first degree by the French ceremony. Invitations were issued today through the Oakland Scottish Rites bodies to local Masons to attend the ceremonies, which will take place in Scottish Rites Cathedral, San Francisco.

The French ceremonies are unlike anything in the English-speaking organizations of Missouri. The first degree carries the Masonic candidate farther in the lore of the order than the Blue Lodge ceremony of this country, and the work is exemplified in a different manner. A large party will leave from Oakland for the affair. The ceremonies will begin in San Francisco at 7:45. The ceremonial is longer than the English rites.

Law Barrier for School Increase

Although the members of the board of supervisors are willing to include an increase in the elementary school budget for the city of Oakland which would provide an additional $100,941 in the funds for this year, the existing law prevented them from making the allowance.

It was stated that the city elementary schools will need $1,250,673 this year, an increase of $100,941 over last year and that the amount cannot be obtained from the city budget.

Opinions of the attorney general and the district attorney as to the effect the city board of supervisors can allow only 25 cents in the tax rate for elementary schools. The increase asked for would necessitate an additional 11 cents.

"If there is any way around the law in favor of allowing the 42 cents asked for," said Supervisor Mullins and the other supervisors agreed with him. The rate is not inclusive of the mandatory high school rate of 5 cents.

Movies of County Shown at State Fair

For the first time in the history of the State Fair at Sacramento the various counties and exhibitors may have the benefit of showing their products by lantern slide and moving pictures.

This fact is due to the efforts of the Alameda county representatives, who have for the past week been installing the county exhibit at the fair. This county will be shown in pictures and the five individual exhibitors in the Alameda county display will take advantage of the opportunity afforded.

I hardly think it necessary for me to tell the people of Oakland that Mr. Smith is not in the habit of making statements that are untrue, or of putting forward propositions under false pretenses; yet he has been maligned and vilified by speakers who could think of no other argument to present against the proposed charter change.

CHURCHMEN GIVE MEXICAN VIEWS

Leading Catholic Priests and Laymen Define Situation for Conventions.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Views of the leading priests and laymen of the Catholic church on the situation in Mexico received further definition today in the conventions here of the American Federation of Catholic Societies, the Catholic Young Men's National Union and the German Catholic Central Verein. Business sessions of the Federation and the allied organizations were held this morning. Subjects discussed in the report of Anthony Matre, secretary of the Federation, were taken up. Mr. Matre in his report yesterday criticized some phases of the moving picture business, easy divorces and attacks on Christianity. A women's session of the federation was also on the morning program.

PRIMARY OFFICERS TO RECEIVE $10

Supervisors Vote to Increase Allowance for Election Workers.

Officers who serve at the state primary election next Tuesday will be paid $10 instead of $5, the board of supervisors today having voted to allow the increased amount following a motion made in favor of a motion introduced by Supervisor Kelley and seconded by Supervisor Mullins. It had previously been agreed that $5 should be the remuneration. Chairman Murphy stated that he felt the smaller amount would be sufficient as the board of supervisors were unable at that time to give them extra pay.

"We really owe them something," said Supervisor Mullins, "and when we considered that an election officer will have to turn out at 5:30 o'clock in the morning and probably stay on duty until late at night, they really work two days and should be entitled to the pay."

The other members of the board agreed that $10 would not be a remuneration for the duties, acknowledging that they would not care to do the same job for $5.

Hearing of the petition and the protest brought by two factions in Hayward over a proposed tax levy to raise $10,500 for the Hayward district grammar school for improvements was set for August 31. The supervisors have been asked to appropriate $250,000 for the work program and the matter was referred to the district attorney for decision as to the charge of the "Safety First" work program and the amount which would be drawn from the advertising fund.

"We advertise to bring people into the county, so why should we not endeavor to protect those who are here," said Supervisor Pass.

Cardinal Holds Prayer in Ruins Prelate Found Alone in Wreck of War

RHEIMS, France, Aug. 22.—An inspection of the famous church of St. Remy shows that it was damaged in numerous places by the recent bombardment, which destroyed the civil hospital. Cardinal Luçon is among those who still remain here. He was found on Sunday alone and kneeling in prayer on a heap of debris from the cathedral. In spite of the noise of the cannon, adding then in prayer, he continued to remain in Rheims and would not desert the city under any circumstances.

At the same time Monsignor Ginsty, bishop of Verdun, who, since the bombardment of that cathedral, has been staying at Bar Le Duc, celebrated mass in Vasson Court, which was the scene of bloody combats in September, 1914. Rinding of bells joyously announced the arrival of the bishop of the frontier, as he is known. Monsignor Ginsty delivered a stirring address on victory which, he said, is promised and assured.

RUMANIA NOT DECIDED ON WAR

Agitation in Favor of War Said to Be Subsiding After Mobilization.

BERLIN, Aug. 22.—The Budapest Az Est, which is usually well informed on the Rumanian situation, publishes today a despatch from its Bucharest correspondent saying that agitation for war which in the last few days has been at fever heat has suddenly cooled down. It is stated that possibly the end of mobilization in Rumania will bring about a change, if not the serious words uttered in the Hungarian Parliament. (This is the first hint of a Rumanian mobilization that has been permitted to pass the allied censorship. Almost nothing on the Rumanian situation from the allied viewpoint has come through since the Balkan situation in its present phase reached a critical stage.)

The Bucharest despatch adds that there is no doubt that Premier Bratianu has reached an understanding with the entente so that the further negotiations are unnecessary now for actual participation in the war. Meanwhile the semi-official Rumanian press is savagely attacking the conservative organs which undertook to discuss mobilization and related measures.

More ammunition from France and Russia is asserted to be arriving. The white heat of discussion in Bucharest political circles is now declared to be subsiding despite the alleged imminence of the final step. This is asserted to be due to the failure of the Russians to keep up their recent successes and the proximity of Field Marshal von Hindenburg to the Rumanian border.

PARIS, Aug. 22.—All the morning newspapers comment at length on the possibility of Rumania joining the war. The meetings that are in progress in Bucharest are taken to mean that all the various Rumanian political factions are being seriously considered and the general tone of the comment is that the decisive moment for Rumania's action has arrived.

Operations of the Bulgarian armies in Macedonia have been interpreted in some quarters as having been undertaken solely with a view to influencing the decision of Rumania. On all sides it is agreed that a new phase in Balkan history is opening and the discussion by the press of the various diplomatic phases of the Rumanian situation is followed by an examination of the Rumanian army. The statement is made on good authority that the number of Rumanian troops that can be mobilized exceeds 500,000 and that the army is in the best of condition after long preparation.

British Officers Pay Heaviest Death Toll

LONDON, Aug. 22.—Casualties among British officers for the last seven days of July were heavier than in any previous period of the war, again showing the effects of the present western offensive.

The casualty lists include 737 killed, 1688 wounded and 134 missing—a total of 2559. They bring the aggregate losses since the beginning of the war to 36,416, of whom 10,842 have been killed or have died of wounds and 25,574 have been wounded and 2593 are missing.

Among officers of high rank Major General Ingouville-Williams was killed, three brigadier generals were wounded and one colonel and nine lieutenant colonels were killed.

TO PAY NO TAX

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22.—Fifty-six out of the fifty-eight counties of California will pay $784,572 to the State government as interest on the highway bonds. Under the agreement included in the law that counties pay the interest on the sums expended in their boundaries. The two counties which pay nothing are San Francisco, whose highways are all controlled by the municipality, and Alpine, in which no money has yet been expended. Of the other counties, Los Angeles pays the largest amount, $62,042, and Amador the smallest, $8 cents. Santa Clara county pays $42,472.

"ENEMY FLEET" IS ATTACKING COAST

Great Navy Game Has Begun in Atlantic to Test Preparedness.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—A "red" enemy fleet of great strength conveying thirty transports laden with an invading army arrived within 600 miles of the Atlantic coast at 6 o'clock this morning when the greatest war game ever undertaken by the navy department began.

Within an hour twelve battleships of the "blue" defending fleet were speeding to sea behind a line of destroyers and scouts, intent upon locating and destroying the enemy before he approached the shore.

Admiral Mayo commands the "red" fleet of the fifteen battleships, six swift destroyers, representing the scouting line, and six other navy craft, representing the fleet of transports and other ships.

Rear Admiral Helm has seventeen destroyers and seven light cruisers as his scouting squadron.

Rear Admiral Knight, president of the Navy War College, aboard the super-dreadnought Pennsylvania, will umpire the game, in which seventy-seven fighting craft are engaged. The reserve battleships forming the "blue" fleet main line are manned by naval militia and civilian volunteers.

Plans for bringing the 1918 Pacific coast convention of Advertising Clubs to San Francisco, after Oakland had had the 1917 convention, outlined at the meeting of the San Francisco Ad Club, were today actively taken up by that organization. The plan follows the "Hands Across the Bay" luncheon of yesterday, when W. W. Cribbins told of how the 1918 convention could be brought to San Francisco.

A large San Francisco delegation will be at the Oakland convention to wage a campaign for their city for the following year. Yesterday's meeting was held in the Hotel St. Francis. Fred Nelson spoke on "honest advertising."

WEST SWING ENDED FOR CANDIDATE

Hughes Begins Journey East, Convinced That California Is in Republican Column; Concedes Record Crowds Here

Bakersfield, Porterville and Visalia Hear Addresses of Jurist; Sacramento, Tonight, Is Final Stop of the Party

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 22.—Charles E. Hughes, Republican presidential nominee, started a little more than three weeks ago to make a 10,000-mile campaign trip, but he has already covered pretty nearly all of that mileage and has just begun his trip back across the continent.

Speaking at several California towns today on his way to Sacramento and Fresno, the candidate dwelt particularly on his charge of Democratic inefficiency in tariff legislation. His managers declare that he has found this a popular theme with his audiences. Preparedness, too, they declared, is a subject of deep interest on the Pacific coast, judging from the volume of applause with which Governor Hughes' statements on this issue have been received.

Twelve thousand persons packed Shrine Auditorium to the doors and thronged in the street outside, unable to gain admittance, when Hughes spoke at Los Angeles last night. Democratic tariff ideas were attacked vigorously by him and he asserted that only the European war prevented them from wrecking many American industries.

REGULATION MOCKERY.
"I believe that regulation and supervision by the government," he said at one point, "is a mockery unless it is just and square with the facts. I put that flag up in New York and I never pulled it down, and never propose to. It is a question of studying the facts, of ascertaining the actual conditions and coming to conclusions that are fair."

Hughes has averaged close to 75 or 100 miles a day in auto trips since he left New York. He probably has not walked more than a couple of miles in the whole three days of his journeying. Everywhere he goes, if it is only a few hundred feet, the candidate rides in an auto.

Notwithstanding this almost utter lack of exercise Governor Hughes is in perfect physical condition, according to his physician. He is looking forward, however, to a lot of mountain climbing, his favorite exercise, when he reaches Estes Park, Colo., next week. Mrs. Hughes, too, is enjoying herself, but is getting just a little anxious for some rest and quiet. Both the governor and his wife are somewhat homesick for their children, now at Bridgehampton, N. Y., and yesterday the candidate stole enough time out of an exceedingly busy day to write a long letter to his daughter, Catherine, who was 9 years old yesterday.

SACRAMENTO TONIGHT.
Hughes' itinerary today took him to Porterville, Visalia and several other cities in the San Joaquin valley. He will deliver a speech in Sacramento tonight and will then leave California and pass into Nevada.

Speaking in Los Angeles the candidate said:

"We have had periods in this country when the public interest in this country was ignored; when it was derided and not safeguarded by law. I am glad that period is past. I believe it has passed. I believe there is a new sentiment abroad in this land which recognizes the interests of communities and there is a sentiment which demands protection of the interests of communities against all spoliation, against every abuse of community interests for the sake of private advantage. I did something in New York along that line, and I haven't changed my mind a bit in regard to it."

I also believe that regulation and supervision by the government is a mockery unless it is just and square with the facts. I put that flag up in New York and I never pulled it down—and I never propose to."

STUDY THE FACTS.
There again it is a question of studying the facts, of analyzing the actual conditions and coming to conclusions that are fair. What men are afraid of in this country, on one side and the other of a great controversy, is that they may not have justice when they are in the wrong, and that it is going to have justice when they are in the right, not because it will help you as against this one or that one; not because it will enable you to get this or that, but because it is justice, and because on justice must be founded the lasting prosperity of this nation."

NO NEED OF MEDDLING.
I would have it understood that we have passed the day when we had to restrict what was legitimate in order to crush out what was illegitimate and unfair and illegal. We can protect ourselves against every kind of monopolistic practices without meddling."

We must not scoff at that which makes production possible and expands trade. We must cut where there is abuse, and cut in order that we may prepare the way for healthy action. While we cannot live by surgery alone, we can live if we have surgery, clean, skillful, surgery where necessary, and that is to build up and make the patient healthy, to set him on his feet, to clear the path for his success."

GREAT OVERFLOW MEETING.
Hughes spoke before his second audience of the night at the Shriners' Auditorium. The first, equally as large, was an overflow crowd that streamed from the curb to nearly a block. They were the ones who could not get in the building from 7 o'clock on, an hour before

NATIONAL POLITICAL NEWS

LOYALTY TO FLAG, SAN DIEGO THEME

Republican Standard Bearer Says His Party Is Constructive.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 22.—Around the text of pride and patriotism Republican nominee Charles E. Hughes preached a Republican sermon on national unity, cooperation of purpose and "loyalty to one flag" before a throng of 15,000 people here at the fair grounds yesterday.

"I come to you representing a great liberal party," he said. "It is a party of progress, in my judgment. It is the party which at this time can plan wisely for our future. It is the party which is a great liberal party, which should have the support of those who desire to see honesty, efficiency and progress in our national life."

The candidate denounced the Underwood tariff bill as having "destructive tendencies," and sarcastically referred to Democratic "declarations in the air." He said the Democratic tariff policy with regard to sugar duties was particularly illustrative of a party "which had no foresight." Continuing, he said:

"I protest against any action which is aimed at the crippling of American enterprise. I protest against abuses equally. I protest against the use of tariff schedules or any other means to favor the few at the expense of the public, or rather to build up private privileges at the public cost."

"Why should American industries go out of business, so we can buy goods from abroad?"

There is not going to be any grip on public privileges or right for any corporate interest or any combination of interests at the expense of the people of the United States, if I can prevent it."

The man who looks upon laborers in his employ as mere economic units has not caught the spirit of the twentieth century. There is a new spirit abroad in this land. It is a liberal spirit. It is a good American feeling. What we need is not demagoguery, not standstillism, but good hard common sense and a deep desire to benefit our fellow men, and endeavor to work to that end according to the spirit of our institutions."

Hughes declared in favor of "protecting" children from too soon being drawn into industrial life. "I am against the regulation of business—regulation that favored none, but crippled none. He also discussed the Mexican problem along the same lines as in previous speeches.

the time set for the beginning of his address.

"This is not an ordinary campaign. We are to determine in a crucial period whether we shall halt or advance; whether we shall have fostering, ennobling, encouraging policies, or whether we shall have, wavering, half-hearted and uncertain, into the experience which we are sure to meet when the great European war is over."

SEES A NEW EUROPE.

I shrink from the contemplation of the horrors of that war. I am devoted to the old age pensions and the regulation of business, which I think favored none, but crippled none. He also discussed the Mexican problem along the same lines as in previous speeches.

There will emerge from that war a new Europe, which must be met by a new America. We cannot meet the exigencies which are before us unless we have a patriotic consciousness, both of our power and of our unity."

I desire to see throughout this great land a dominant sense of national unity, rising above all differences of race and creed, and inspiring us to co-operation with the single desire to build up and maintain the honor and the prosperity of the United States."

Hughes spoke of commercial conditions which he thought would prevail after the war.

Then let the United States be warned, he said. Then let the United States take count of its resources, its talents, its strength, its capacity for a co-operation, its self-knowledge. Then let the United States arise, and in this commercial rivalry prove itself big and strong enough, with a sense of fellowship deep enough, to hold its own worthily among the nations as an exponent of power and efficiency under popular government."

LAY GOOD FOUNDATIONS.
Let us lay the foundations broad and deep. This is not the question of a day. This is not the question of a few years. We must plan for a long period ahead."

Our national conditions, or rather our condition of national greatness, must be looked at in connection with the betterment of human life, for without that, under free government, with discontent and the failure to maintain proper standards for human living, there is no possibility of permanent national greatness. We shall succeed as a great fellowship or we shall not succeed at all."

WRONG VISION.
The vision that some may have of little citadels acquired for individual success for which the rest of the community may be held up and be compelled to pay tribute, is a vision of America of a man without vision, and for whom there is no hope in America. The path of American success is the path of co-operation, of conscious co-operation."

We do not exist to make statistics of production simply to have the extent of our territory or the vastness of our population displayed before the world."

PROTECT WOMEN AND CHILDREN.
I should protect women. I should protect children. If we take a long look ahead, we cannot afford to tiffle with the future of the race. Any one who would exploit women or children in industry by unreasonable hours is an enemy of the productive capacity of this country. The country cannot stand that sort of thing."

S. F. GIVES BOOTH HEARTY WELCOME

Campaign in Home City Proves Joy to Republican Candidate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Campaigning in his old home town. That's what Willis H. Booth, Republican candidate for United States Senator, has been doing for two days.

When Booth visited a big laundry on Sanchez street he received a tumultuous welcome. Many greeted him as "Bill," the name he was known by in the old days when he sold laundry machinery here. The whole plant was shut down—a most unusual occurrence—and for ten minutes the force of workers listened to Booth. They gave him an ovation.

Equal enthusiasm was shown in the slaughter houses, the tanneries, the rope walks and sugar refineries of Butcher town and the southern section of the city. In some of the shops Booth met men he had known when he worked as a machinist beside his father. Booth knows how to talk the talk of the machine shops, and this fact, schedule of his itinerary was threatened several times when he lingered with groups of workers belonging to the craft.

Booth was raised on Shotwell street in the Mission district, and went to the public schools in the Mission. These facts helped to account for the ovations he received everywhere when he toured the "warm belt" of San Francisco on Saturday. Booth took special care to visit the street where he was born, to greet him. They are proud of "Bill." They promised that Shotwell street would give him a big vote.

Booth's college "pal" greeted him at the Berkeley meeting. It was a family reunion, for Booth's mother and father still live in Berkeley, and their host of friends turned out to hail the candidate.

In his speeches all over the State Booth has illustrated the "Spirit of the West" by pointing to what San Francisco did in rebuilding after 1906 and in rearing the greatest of world's fairs. This portion of his campaign speech has made a deep impression among the boys. The obvious sincerity of his praise for San Francisco helps to account for the enthusiasm with which he was received wherever he went in his strenuous two days here.

ROWELL'S "ROAR" NOT REPUBLICAN

G. O. P. and Progressives Discount Fresno's Efforts to Involve Hughes

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—In seeking to interest Charles Evans Hughes, the Republican candidate for president, in petty state differences, dealing chiefly with the aspirations of Governor Johnson for United States senatorship, Chester H. Rowell, of Fresno, has made himself the subject of sharp criticism at the hands of prominent Republicans and Progressives throughout the state.

The following statement was issued today by Leo V. Youngworth of Los Angeles:

"Chester H. Rowell's attack on Governor Charles Evans Hughes for his alleged indifference to the Progressive cause plainly indicates that Rowell is lacking in earnestness and sincerity and is recreant to his duties as a member of the Republican National Campaign Committee."

"Rowell's criticism of Hughes is most undignified and plainly indicates that he has not honestly espoused the Republican cause in the present campaign. His conduct is in striking contrast to that of National Committeeman William H. Crocker, who at no time sought to involve Hughes in any state differences. Mr. Crocker gave the Progressives fair representation in the San Francisco meeting, and made every liberal concession to Rowell but of course could not yield to such unjust demands that Johnson, a Progressive, should be permitted to preside at Republican meetings addressed by the Republican National standard bearer."

"The great success of the several meetings in San Francisco and Oakland and the fine reception given Governor Hughes in the southern part of the state, plainly point to the fact that he has won the admiration of the voters in the state and that no local differences will interfere with his prospects—rather they will tend to increase his vote because of the added interest in the campaign and the vying of the real Progressives and the real Republicans to show their loyalty to Mr. Hughes."

Allies Attack U. S. Anti-Blacklist Proviso

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The so-called anti-blacklist proviso in the administration ship bill authorizing customs officials to withhold clearance to any ship refusing American cargo, except for the reason of being fully laden, has attracted the attention of the allied embassies and they are making inquiries which may result in representations to the State Department.

The proviso was inserted in the Senate at the last moment because of penalties attached to ships which carry blacklisted cargo.

POLITICAL NOTES

The program committee of the Oakland Business Women's Club has made arrangements for tomorrow evening, when Congressman J. Arthur Eliot talks on his personal experience in Washington. His address will be informative and non-political nature. In addition, a musical program has been planned. The meeting is to take place in the Young Women's Christian Association building at 8 o'clock.

At an enthusiastic and well-attended meeting of the National Republican club of Berkeley last night the candidacy of Willis H. Booth for the nomination for United States senator and that of N. Bruce Brocklehurst for assemblyman from the Forty-first district were unanimously endorsed.

The meeting was addressed by Philip M. Carey of Oakland who spoke of party loyalty and the definite principles of the Republican party for which the candidates endorsed stand.

Judge J. Murphy presided at the meeting and announced that prominent Republican ship address next Monday's meeting. The club means to have Monday night in I. O. O. F. hall at the corner of Addison street and Shattuck avenue.

CROSBY HEARD IN TALK TO LABOR

Candidate for Nomination Visits Shops and Pledges Self to Principles.

Employees of the Byron Jackson Pump Works, the Peet Brothers Soap Works, the California Ink Company and the Carbonate Soap Works in West Berkeley today, at the invitation of their employer, stopped their labors for half an hour at each place to hear Peter J. Crosby, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congressman from this district, declare himself on the issues of labor and pledge his untiring efforts to the cause of economic and industrial adjustments in the nation if elected by the voters of the Sixth Congressional district.

The meetings had been arranged by a committee of manufacturers interested in the Crosby campaign. All day he devoted to visiting labor and efforts to meet many acquaintances and met in much time among the lathes and in the shops where the men in blue jeans and jumpers were busy with the wheels of industry.

In the afternoon Crosby was escorted to the McQuade Boat Works, where the pound of hammer against iron and the blast of the forge ceased for twenty minutes while he spoke to the workers. Crosby said:

"I have come to you to offer you my declaration of candidacy first and so that you may have from me, personally, my pledge to make the cause of the American worker, the cause of American progress, and the cause of industrial harmony, the cause of myself. I believe that there is one principle that dominates every decision in the rank and file of American labor and am unwilling to believe that unfairness or dishonesty actuates the motives of the worker in his demands for better working hours and a better living wage."

"There is such a thing in a national crisis as hysteria. That is a great danger. It is as common to capital as it is to labor. Men of great power, on both sides, have been known to act quickly. Events have not always justified their hasty conduct and there has been a consequent economic loss in wages, materials and efficiency. Waste must always be compensated for. There must always follow a period of 'catching up,' at the expense of the masses. These things are worthy the careful and most exacting study of your representatives in Congress, and to these things I pledge myself if accorded your support."

Crosby was cordially received by the men at each place. At 9 o'clock tonight he addresses a meeting at Odd Fellows' hall, Eleventh and Franklin streets.

McDowell Campaign Gains in Alameda

ALAMEDA, Aug. 22.—J. Sherman McDowell, candidate for the Republican nomination for assemblyman from the Thirty-fifth district, is busily engaged in canvassing the entire district, and according to his friends is gaining many supporters because of his sterling Republicanism and advocacy of constructive legislation.

McDowell has been a resident of Alameda for ten years. He was president of the Chamber of Commerce for two terms and has always been active in civic affairs in the island city.

McDowell believes that a measure can be adopted at the next session of the state legislature whereby the $125,000 to be expended by the Union Iron Works Company on the city's waterfront property can be applied toward the $200,000 which the state has said Alameda must expend before obtaining the right to her waterfront. McDowell also favors legislation that will mean for the development of the Oakland-Alameda harbor and for the establishment in the Thirty-fifth district of numerous industrial enterprises.

HENEY MAY SPEAK.
The Woodrow Wilson Independent League of Alameda county held its regular meeting at its clubhouse, 1430 Webster street, last night. A committee consisting of Messrs. J. M. C. Murphy, Edward Elliott and Paul Ferguson was appointed to arrange a public meeting in the near future with Francis J. Heney as the principal speaker.

DR. MILTON BURIED.
The funeral of the late Dr. Joseph L. Milton was held this morning at 9:30 o'clock from St. Francis de Sales church, followed by private interment in St. Mary's cemetery. The regular monthly meeting of the Alameda County Medical Association, scheduled for tonight at the Hotel Oakland was postponed out of respect for Dr. Milton. He was one of the leading members of the organization.

Autoist Hits Worker on Road

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 22.—Unable to avert a collision between his automobile and a group of cannery workers on the San Lorenzo road, W. O. Everhart of San Lorenzo is said to have knocked down and seriously injured Victor Ageno, aged 20 years, 1148 Eighty-second avenue, Elmhurst, today. Ageno was on his way to work at the cannery and was walking in the roadway with other young men when Everhart approached in his machine from the direction of San Lorenzo. The driver swung to one side to avoid running into the group but struck Ageno. Everhart removed the injured lad in his machine to the County Infirmary. Ageno's injuries include severe bruises and cuts about the head and a possible fracture of the skull.

HUNTERS WAIT TO RAID FOR SEALS

Twenty-Year Ban Soon to Expire and Ships Are Ready.

With the expiration of the twenty-year closed season for seals and sea otters less than two years away, there is already a decided interest being taken in the revival of an industry which has languished under the ban of the federal government. The Alaska Commercial Company, H. Leibes & Co., Ladd & Co. and several other firms are ready to start again in the lucrative trade in fur-bearing animals, as soon as the legal restrictions are removed.

Eighteen years ago the United States government stopped all vessels under the American flag from capturing seals or sea otters and imposed a fine for all violations of the law. In the year 1898 there were over twenty-five sealing and otter-hunting schooners seized by the revenue cutters in Bering Straits after they had sailed from Oakland. The vessels and their cargoes were sold by the federal authorities at Sitka. Claims of owners of these vessels for reimbursement are still pending in Washington.

Now that the twenty-year period of protection has nearly expired many who were in the trade years ago are preparing to engage in it again. The schooner Herold Bleum is being fitted out by the Alaska Commercial Company, while A. R. and J. Todd have purchased the schooner Allie J. Alger. There are only a few vessels of this type left on the coast, and if the trade is revived it will be necessary to build others for the demands.

Among the old-time sealing captains who are now living in Oakland are Captain Scott, Captain George Wester, Captain Harry Grunner, Captain Edward Littlejohn and Captain Harry Higgins.

Preacher Contributes to Conscience Fund

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—With a four-dollar contribution to the treasury's conscience fund today came the following letter signed by a Texas preacher: "You will find inclosed four one dollar bills. The person that is sending them has got to God, and doing his best to get to heaven. This is what he has been thinking out of for several years ago, so please make some disposal of them, as the one sending them don't want them."

W. & J. SLOANE'S EXTRAORDINARY SPECIAL SALE OF ORIENTAL AND DOMESTIC RUGS

THROUGH our own representatives in Persia, Turkey, India and China we have been able to accumulate a most remarkable collection of Oriental Rugs—one of the largest stocks we have ever had. Such are the difficulties of transportation that many of these rugs have been en route for more than a year and are of weaves that will not again be procurable until long after the European war ceases. In several European cities our buyers have secured for us some valuable collections originally intended for those places and for other cities now blockaded. Our present stock, however, contains the last supply available from these sources.

A carpet-size rug requires from nine months to three years to weave, and as no capital is available for the industry in Persia and Turkey during the present turmoil, it is safe to predict that stocks cannot be replaced until at least two years after peace is declared. When meritorious rugs of dependable weaves are again produced their cost will undoubtedly be greatly advanced over our present prices, as thousands of skillful weavers have been killed in the war, and years will pass before the production of rugs reaches its former volume.

These conditions of the industry have been watched and studied by our buyers, and our present unusually large stock is the result of their efforts to anticipate the scarcity and increased cost of Oriental Rugs.

Prospective purchasers are urged to compare the quality and prices of the rugs we offer with those offered elsewhere.

An Oriental Rug at a fair price represents the greatest value in floor coverings.

WILSON VETO IMMIGRATION BILL WHIP

Five of Regular Democrats
Return to Fold Following
Rebellion Caused Yesterday
Against Caucus Program

President's Announcement of
Stand on Literacy Clause
Causes Senate to Send Back
Measure for Reconsideration

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—President Wilson let it be known today that he would veto the immigration bill if it came before him again with the literacy test and with that the Senate defeated the motion to take up the measure and returned to consideration of the revenue bill.

The return to the regular Democratic fold of five of the ten Democrats who "inspired" in behalf of the immigration bill yesterday, was responsible for the vote this afternoon to pass the measure. The rebellion against the caucus program not to vote on immigration, Senate leaders believe, has been smothered.

SENATORS SWITCH BACK.
The five senators who switched back were Breckinridge, Chamberlain, Culberson, Lane and Overman. The five who refused to return were Hardwick, Myers, Vardaman, Smith of South Carolina and Ashurst.

The vote was on a motion to consider the immigration bill ahead of the revenue measure.

The victory was not accomplished, however, without more airing of party linen in a continuation of the worst fight within the ranks that has marked the session.

Vardaman, Mississippi, bitterly attacked Senator Stone as a "self-constituted censor of Democratic principles."

REVOLT AMONG DEMOCRATS.
"I would like to inquire," said Senator Gallinger, "whether our friends would care if we left the chamber while they compose their differences?"

"You can go out of this Senate and stay out the rest of your life for all I care. I know of cares," retorted Myers of Montana.

The revolt among Democrats came yesterday when Senator Smith of South Carolina (Democrat), chairman of the immigration committee, moved to take up the immigration bill. The motion was carried and debate on the measure started. The revenue bill took precedence, automatically, at a certain hour, however, and Senator Smith moved to replace it on the calendar with the immigration bill. This motion was pending at the opening of the session today. Ten insurgent Senate Democrats voting with Republicans, tried to cause the immediate action on the immigration bill which a Democratic caucus had agreed to put over until the December session.

Army Appropriation Bill Passes House

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Without the revised articles of war, to portions of which President Wilson and the War Department objected, the House passed the army appropriation bill. The Senate is expected to insert an acceptable revision and the House is expected later to accept it. President Wilson vetoed the bill because of portions of the revision.

WILLIAM FARNUM TO APPEAR IN STRONG ROLE AT BROADWAY

WILLIAM FARNUM.

Movie Star Featured in Story of Great Northwest

In Caroline Lockhart's story, "The Man From Bitter Root," at the Broadway starting tomorrow, William Farnum takes the part of a miner, Bruce Burr. He is a burly, whole-hearted man, who thinks never of himself, but always of his duties to those dependent on him.

Bruce starts out on a hunt for the sister of his former partner in the mining camp, to give her the share of gold dust due to her. In the search he tells his story to another man, T. V. Sprudell (H. A. Barrows), who finds the girl, gives her $500 which he says is the share due her from the mine, and starts the Bitter Root Mining Company for himself.

Then Bruce turns up. He has learned of the scheme of the unscrupulous financier, and he is determined to foil it. He has trouble in raising the money to carry through his own project, but finally manages to do so. Then he finds the girl, he tells her the true story, which Sprudell had not done, and forms a partnership with her. They determine to fight Sprudell and regain their rightful ownership of the mine.

A new plant goes up on the Bitter Root Mining Company property. It belongs to Bruce and Helen. But it is scarcely completed when a devastating fire sweeps the land, completely destroys the building and leaves the place in ruins. Everything has gone against Bruce. He even hears that Sprudell and his scheming partners had arranged the fire themselves. He writes to Helen in despair.

A great sacrifice, Helen goes to Bruce's father, a wealthy ranchman from whom he had been estranged. The purity and goodness of the girl, and her earnest pleas for the son, win the old man, and in the end father and son are reunited, the Bitter Root Mining Company is re-established and Helen becomes general manager of more things than a mine.

Starting Sunday and all week the manager announces "The Little Girl Next Door," the picture that is based on the investigation of the Chicago Vice Commission.

DIABLO RECORD BROKEN AGAIN

Ben Hammond Better Record With Husky Briscoe Car.

By EDMUND CRINNON.

Once again the road record for motor car travel between Oakland and Mt. Diablo has been shattered. This time the record run was made by Ben Hammond, manager of the Oakland branch house of the Pacific Kismet Car, who early this morning drove the new Briscoe touring car from the Key Route Inn at Twenty-second street and Broadway in Oakland to the very peak at the summit of Mt. Diablo in minutes 54 seconds, lowering the best previous record by nearly five minutes.

By this remarkable trip over the Tunnel road and thence through Walnut Creek and over the grades up the mountain, Hammond broke the record set by the old Pine Canyon trail. Then along came the Burgess company and started building roads for motor cars up the top of the mountain. About that time the management of the Key Route Inn offered a perpetual challenge trophy—a silver cup—for the car loaded with four people making the fastest official time trip between the local Inn and the summit.

The cup was no sooner offered than it was won by the Franklin, owned by Will Darrin, who soon after that on display than Alden McElrath of the local house won it with an Oakland touring car having made the trip in 50 minutes flat.

The cup rested with the Don Lee house for nearly a year, due to the fact possibly that the tunnel road was torn up and impassable for nearly that length of time.

Then last week a 4-80 Chevrolet car driven by Chas. A. Fraser trimmed the old time record and set a new mark of 46 minutes. Fraser was given the cup and many there were who thought that the Chevrolet car's time would stand.

This morning, however, Hammond brought the cup into the Briscoe car camp with the exceedingly fast time record of 51 minutes for the entire trip. Hammond claimed that he could have done even better but that he was handicapped by the heavy fog which hung over the bay cities this morning making it impossible for him to get the utmost speed out of his car without taking undue chances.

That the time made by Hammond is remarkable in view of conditions must be taken into consideration for the run represents a trip of over 30 miles and a climb of over 4,000 feet over roads that are full of turns.

The time record proves two things. First, that the roads between Oakland and Mt. Diablo have shown wonderful improvement, or, second, that the modern motor car has likewise shown wonderful improvement.

The husky little Briscoe car which set the fast record this morning is one of the latest arrivals on the market. It sells for under $1,000 at factory. This car's price class is one of the features of this road record. Ordinarily speed records are made by cars associated with racing cars or at least of cars that are much higher in price than the car of the record.

The story of the run is best told in the following affidavits:

Oakland, Cal., August 22, 1916.
This is to certify that Ben Hammond, driving a Briscoe stock touring car, was checked out by me from the Key Route Inn at Twenty-second street, Oakland, California, at exactly 5:15 a. m., Tuesday morning, August 22, 1916.
(Signed) R. MORRILL, KEY ROUTE INN.

This is to certify that I accompanied Mr. Ben Hammond in the Briscoe car which left the Key Route Inn at Twenty-second and Broadway, Oakland, at 5:15 a. m., Tuesday morning, August 22, 1916, and that we drove over the Tunnel road, thence via Walnut Creek to the top of Mt. Diablo, reaching the summit of the mountain at 6:15:50 a. m., making the entire trip in one hour one minute and 50 seconds.

Accompanying Mr. Hammond were Al Stoll, Milton Morehouse and myself.
(Signed) HARRY LAWRENCE.

This is to certify that the Briscoe car driven by Mr. Ben Hammond passed the toll gate on its way to the summit of Mt. Diablo at 5:52:40 a. m., Tuesday morning, August 22, 1916.
(Signed) J. WALKER, Toll Gate Keeper.

Soldiers Will Hold Reception on Stage
"Star-Spangled Banner Day" will be theaterdom's contribution to the preparedness movement, when, next Saturday afternoon, the men, women and children of Oakland will be told of the intimate workings of Uncle Sam's army; will be shown just how tents are erected, how first aid work is done, and even how the Springfield rifle is cleaned and separated.

The United States regular soldiers appearing this week at the Pantages theater will hold a reception on the stage, after the matinee. They will answer all questions, receive the guests on the stage, show them all the equipment and weapons used in warfare, and meet personally the boys and girls who will be present.

The boys will be shown the rifles and how they work. The girls will be told how the soldiers carry their packs and cook in the field.

The soldiers, appearing in their regular maneuvers, camp pitching, and a sham battle at the Pantages this week, are called to the stage circuit by Lieutenant Colonel John Gardner of the Presidio. Among the soldiers in the act are three well known in Oakland, Sergeant Walter Burgess, and Corporals Dave Spencer and Sam Latham, who for some months served in the Oakland recruiting office.

Manager Harry Cornell has invited the members of the Grand Army of the Republic to be the guests of the theater Wednesday.

The Saturday matinee affair will be interesting. Every child attending will be given a silk flag in honor of the occasion.

Movie Actresses and Their Hair

Did it ever occur to you that every movie actress you have seen has lovely hair, while the most popular count their curls as their chief beauty? In fact, this is a secret, many a leading ladies just because of their attractive locks. Inquiry among them discloses the fact that they bring out all the natural beauty of their hair by careful shampooing, not with any soap or makeshift, but with a simple mixture which they make up for themselves by putting a teaspoonful of canthor (which they get from the druggist), in a cup of hot water and applying this instead of soap. After its use their hair dries rapidly, with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. The hair is so fluffy that it looks much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness is delightful, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth. Advertisement.

MILITIA TO STAY TILL DANGER ENDS

Baker Tells Letter Writers Troops Win Bloodless Battles.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The National Guard will be retained on the Mexican border until it can be withdrawn without again endangering American lives and property, Secretary Baker declared the administration's policy yesterday in answering a score of letters from many parts of the country complaining that the State troops were being held in service after the emergency for which they were called out apparently had passed.

In general the complainants, whose names were withheld, alleged that border service was entailing loss financially on militiamen and hardship on their families. The Secretary replied to all those seeming to merit attention. By its presence on the border he wrote to one, the guard is "winning bloodless victories daily."

Referring to the elaborate and extensive training the militiamen are receiving under supervision of regular army officers, the Secretary expressed the opinion that it would fit them to act in time of war or other emergency as a supporting and second line for the regular army, furnishing an asset to national preparedness that could not have been obtained otherwise.

In another letter he called attention to steps taken to relieve guardsmen where there is unusual hardship resulting from their being called into the service.

Will Hold Services for Deputy Assessor

The funeral of Frederick De Berna, deputy county assessor, will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock from the C. H. Wheeler parlors in Alameda. Cremation will follow at Cypress Lawn cemetery, San Mateo county. The deceased was a native of France, coming to California in 1851, where he became interested in mining properties. In 1868 De Berna became a deputy assessor, and had been continuously in the county's service ever since. Death came to him yesterday at the home of his son, Carlos E. De Berna, 1577 Chestnut street, Alameda. He was the widower of the late Mrs. Juana Letta De Berna, and is survived by a son, Carlos E. De Berna.

TWO BOYS ADMIT KILLING TEACHER

Captured, After 120-Mile Chase, Youths Are Held for Murder.

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Aug. 22.—Harold and Lynn Lovelace, brothers, 12 and 11 years old, were held today for trial for murder of F. Thomas Hamill, a teacher from Carson, Nevada. The boys, who were taken into custody for runaways, confessed immediately. In their wagon was found eight guns and revolvers they had stolen as they traveled.

Caught by Hamill in the act of robbing his house, they shot him with a soft-nosed bullet from his own rifle. Fleeing in terror, they took everything they could find on the place, including a horse, wagon, provisions, money and arms. They started on a wild ride over the mountains, traveling 120 miles in six days before they were caught.

Hamill is said to be the last of a band of notorious Chinese smugglers. The offense for which he was arrested was committed in November, 1911, when, accompanied by H. W. Tracy, a sailor, Antonio Felix, son of a wealthy Mexican family, Reynold Scott and Ethel Hall, he succeeded in landing thirty-two Chinese coolies from the launch Comrade at Monterey bay. The Chinese were captured, but Tracy, Hall and the latter's wife fled, the former to Canada and the latter to Lower California. Tracy has not been heard from since. Mrs. Hall died about a year ago in Los Angeles. Felix and Scott served prison terms.

Social Views of Activities of the Week

Uncle Wiggly Kiddle Cuts up for Kiddle

MISS LOUISE MAHONEY, sketching a corner of the beautiful Oscar Sutro place. She has just concluded a stay on this side of the bay as house guest of Mrs. Augustus Bray.

The attractions of Alaska—despite the glories of the Aurora borealis—rather faded this year so far as the summer travelers of the bay are concerned, and the need for inspection of mining properties called up at least one party. That was the group including Colonel and Mrs. J. D. Macdonald, Miss Francis Joffe, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Regan and Miss Amy Regan, who are expected to return next Saturday.

The Joffes motored to Salt Lake City over a month ago, and after a week during which they were entertained by friends there, were joined by Miss Francis Joffe. From there the trio journeyed to Alaska, where they boarded the "Cypress," and went north to Juneau, where the Joffe family interests are centered in Alaska. On the way they were met by Mrs. Mark Regan, Miss Amy Regan and Mark Regan, who is interested in some of this mining property. The Regans will probably return with them.

Lieutenant James Sterrett Woods, U. S. N., arrived in town last Friday and is a house guest of his brother-in-law, Samuel Day, at whose home Mrs. Woods has been making her home for some time past. Many friends have been greeting him, and next Thursday evening there is to be a dinner party for the young naval officer and his wife given by Mrs. Henry Merkle.

Uncertainty as to where the Woods would be stationed has been dispelled by orders sending Lieutenant Woods to the Bremerton navy yard, just outside of Seattle, and on Wednesday, August 30, they will sail, much to the regret of the service here, on the Congress. Mrs. Barron Du Bois, wife of Pay Inspector Du Bois, leaves on Thursday of this week for the same place.

The two popular young matrons, who have been sharing honors at a number of affairs during these last few weeks of their stay here, were the complimented guests this afternoon at a bridge, given by Mrs. H. C. Haines, wife of Lieutenant-Colonel Haines of the United States Marine Corps.

Bremerton has also claimed Admiral and Mrs. William H. Whiting from Berkeley. Recently the Whitings went North in order to be near their daughter, Mrs. James Harvey Taylor (Marie Whiting), who is at the Keport torpedo station while Lieutenant Taylor is in command of the destroyer Porpoise. They are stopping at the Hotel Wolfram there.

During the past week, when she was the house guest of Mrs. Augustus Bray, Miss Louise Mahoney spent much of her time in sketching several of the beautiful Piedmont gardens, among them that of the Oscar Sutros, which is one of the most picturesque on the border of the foothills. This week she is the guest of her nieces, Miss Margaret and Miss Helen Bassett, for a few days.

Miss Mahoney, who is well known in society here, used to make her home on this side of the bay until several years ago, when she and her sister, Miss Emma Mahoney, crossed to live in San Francisco. Recently she has taken up with painting, and has been particularly successful in her interpretations of gardens, so much so that several of the most critical of the professional artists have joined with her friends in urging her to give an exhibition this fall. She will probably do so, but meanwhile she has finished a panel of ambitious size for pastel, destined to go into the new place that Colonel and Mrs. Lincoln Karmany intend erecting at Pebble Beach. During a fortnight recently spent with the Karmanyes she evolved several other charming things of garden corners and of the water.

In the many things that have been said of Mrs. Willie K. Vanderbilt, it has not been much mentioned that the former "Birdie" Fair has been interested enough in pictorial art to have spent some of her time during the past few years in painting. Unlike Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney (Gertrude Vanderbilt) she does not devote the greater part of her energies to this interest, but is far from indifferent to sport and stirring sporting events.

After a trip taken in her private car with Mrs. Charles Clark and several others to Los Angeles and Catalina, Mrs. Vanderbilt is now back at Del Monte, and, of course, a much admired figure. Last Thursday night she was hostess at a dinner in the Del Monte grill to a number of guests, including Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Clark, Mrs. C. Raoul Duval and Richard Tobin. On Friday night, when there were many of gay parties over at Pebble Beach Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. Clark gave a dinner at which she was the center of interest.

The visit of Mr. and Mrs. Talbot Walker in Santa Barbara, as the house guests of Mrs. William Griffith Henshaw at Mira Vista inspired a dinner dance given last week by Miss Nina Jones, who has often been a guest of Mrs. Charles Keeney here in town.

Among those asked to meet them, besides Mrs. Ella Henshaw Chickering and Mrs. Keeney, included Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Park, Mrs. Julia Horne, Mrs. Arthur Oran, Miss William Frow, Miss Martha Brevoort, Miss Gladys Keeney, Miss Mabel Cunane, Mr. Reginald Fernald, Mr. Charles Dabney, Mr. Emerson Zutterworth, Mr. Harold Chase, Mr. Robert McGinn and Mr. Brook Sawyer.

Mrs. I. W. Hellman Jr. entertained a party of eighteen of her young friends last Saturday at Idora Park with a swim and luncheon at the hotel. Most of her guests were from the younger set across the bay.

By motor and by train parties thronged through the unusually amiable Sunday summer sunlight to Mount Diablo for the boating, a game of tennis, a swim or a ride to summit of the mountain.

The evening before the informal Saturday evening dinner dance drew a jolly gathering of dancers. An innovation at these dances has been the introduction of piano and guitar music instead of a more formal orchestra.

On party included Mr. and Mrs. Irving Lundborg, who motored over for the week-end with Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Lohse, Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Dieckmann and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Gaskill.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward von Adelung entertained Sacramento friends, Dr. and Mrs. Montford K. Caldwell and Mr. and Mrs. Norman McArthur, and others, including Mrs. S. B. Reynolds, Miss Clara Reynolds, Miss Julia Frances Bray, Watson A. Bray, Albridge Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marsh and Howard W. Bray.

Mrs. Cosmos Morgan and her son, Cosmos Morgan, who are very prominent in society in Southern California, motored over Sunday, registering at Diablo Inn.

Other guests there were: Dr. and Mrs. Milbank Johnson of Los Angeles, who, with a number of friends, will remain there until the end of this week. Their party included their daughters, Miss Louise and Miss Evelyn Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marsh and their daughter, Miss Florence and Miss Martha Marsh; Missy Gilles of Sheridan, Wyo., and Mrs. T. Curtis Donay of San Francisco.

Walter O. Hill of Los Angeles joined them for the week-end.

One of the jolliest sunrise parties held on the summit of Mount Diablo during the season was arranged last Saturday morning by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Noble Burgess in honor of their Los Angeles visitors. The party, leaving the clubhouse at 1 o'clock in the morning, motored to the summit to see the sunrise.

Like an Open Book For Young Mothers!

Most women look upon becoming a mother, for the first time, as something full of unknown mysteries; a agony and pain; a time of distressing days and months. These are misguided conclusions. "Mother's Friend," used daily before confinement, will prove its great value as an ally to those distressing pains and assist nature in doing its work with ease and comfort. Sutter and Stockton Streets—San Francisco FIVE FLOORS

During the past week, when she was the house guest of Mrs. Augustus Bray, Miss Louise Mahoney spent much of her time in sketching several of the beautiful Piedmont gardens, among them that of the Oscar Sutros, which is one of the most picturesque on the border of the foothills. This week she is the guest of her nieces, Miss Margaret and Miss Helen Bassett, for a few days.

Miss Mahoney, who is well known in society here, used to make her home on this side of the bay until several years ago, when she and her sister, Miss Emma Mahoney, crossed to live in San Francisco. Recently she has taken up with painting, and has been particularly successful in her interpretations of gardens, so much so that several of the most critical of the professional artists have joined with her friends in urging her to give an exhibition this fall. She will probably do so, but meanwhile she has finished a panel of ambitious size for pastel, destined to go into the new place that Colonel and Mrs. Lincoln Karmany intend erecting at Pebble Beach. During a fortnight recently spent with the Karmanyes she evolved several other charming things of garden corners and of the water.

In the many things that have been said of Mrs. Willie K. Vanderbilt, it has not been much mentioned that the former "Birdie" Fair has been interested enough in pictorial art to have spent some of her time during the past few years in painting. Unlike Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney (Gertrude Vanderbilt) she does not devote the greater part of her energies to this interest, but is far from indifferent to sport and stirring sporting events.

After a trip taken in her private car with Mrs. Charles Clark and several others to Los Angeles and Catalina, Mrs. Vanderbilt is now back at Del Monte, and, of course, a much admired figure. Last Thursday night she was hostess at a dinner in the Del Monte grill to a number of guests, including Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Clark, Mrs. C. Raoul Duval and Richard Tobin. On Friday night, when there were many of gay parties over at Pebble Beach Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. Clark gave a dinner at which she was the center of interest.

The visit of Mr. and Mrs. Talbot Walker in Santa Barbara, as the house guests of Mrs. William Griffith Henshaw at Mira Vista inspired a dinner dance given last week by Miss Nina Jones, who has often been a guest of Mrs. Charles Keeney here in town.

Among those asked to meet them, besides Mrs. Ella Henshaw Chickering and Mrs. Keeney, included Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Park, Mrs. Julia Horne, Mrs. Arthur Oran, Miss William Frow, Miss Martha Brevoort, Miss Gladys Keeney, Miss Mabel Cunane, Mr. Reginald Fernald, Mr. Charles Dabney, Mr. Emerson Zutterworth, Mr. Harold Chase, Mr. Robert McGinn and Mr. Brook Sawyer.

Mrs. I. W. Hellman Jr. entertained a party of eighteen of her young friends last Saturday at Idora Park with a swim and luncheon at the hotel. Most of her guests were from the younger set across the bay.

By motor and by train parties thronged through the unusually amiable Sunday summer sunlight to Mount Diablo for the boating, a game of tennis, a swim or a ride to summit of the mountain.

The evening before the informal Saturday evening dinner dance drew a jolly gathering of dancers. An innovation at these dances has been the introduction of piano and guitar music instead of a more formal orchestra.

On party included Mr. and Mrs. Irving Lundborg, who motored over for the week-end with Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Lohse, Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Dieckmann and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Gaskill.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward von Adelung entertained Sacramento friends, Dr. and Mrs. Montford K. Caldwell and Mr. and Mrs. Norman McArthur, and others, including Mrs. S. B. Reynolds, Miss Clara Reynolds, Miss Julia Frances Bray, Watson A. Bray, Albridge Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marsh and Howard W. Bray.

Mrs. Cosmos Morgan and her son, Cosmos Morgan, who are very prominent in society in Southern California, motored over Sunday, registering at Diablo Inn.

Other guests there were: Dr. and Mrs. Milbank Johnson of Los Angeles, who, with a number of friends, will remain there until the end of this week. Their party included their daughters, Miss Louise and Miss Evelyn Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marsh and their daughter, Miss Florence and Miss Martha Marsh; Missy Gilles of Sheridan, Wyo., and Mrs. T. Curtis Donay of San Francisco.

Walter O. Hill of Los Angeles joined them for the week-end.

One of the jolliest sunrise parties held on the summit of Mount Diablo during the season was arranged last Saturday morning by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Noble Burgess in honor of their Los Angeles visitors. The party, leaving the clubhouse at 1 o'clock in the morning, motored to the summit to see the sunrise.

HIGHWAY PLANS UP TO COMMITTEE

Field Secretary of Lincoln Route Here as Guest of Boosters.

Plans of the California Lincoln Highway organization, which is to develop the transcontinental road through Nevada, were discussed today, and various angles of the Highway Association work were taken up, when H. C. Ostermann, field secretary of the Highway Association, was the guest of the Good Roads committee and Lincoln Highway committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Tuesday luncheon of the Advertising Bureau was postponed, the day might be given over to the reception of the famous road expert, Ostermann, traced the route of the highway, described the work to be done in Nevada, and told of the direct benefit to Oakland from the thousands of automobiles crossing the continent over the transcontinental road.

Some time ago the State Lincoln Highway League, to further the work of improving the Nevada part of the road, was formed. As Nevada is financially unable to handle the work, and derives relatively small benefits from the roads, California is to aid materially in the work, a public subscription to be taken to aid in the development and repair of the Nevada units of the road.

LABOR NOTES

Endorsement of the proposed indeterminate franchise plan for extending the franchises of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway Company, under a profit-sharing plan with the city, was voted last night by the Central Labor Council.

The plans for the organization of school teachers in this county were discussed last night. The organization will consist of a federation of teachers composed of locals at Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda, and one at large for the county teachers. They will send a set of delegates to the Central Labor Council.

Notice was served last night by the Butchers' Union to the council to ask union men to make their meat purchases before 8 o'clock Saturday night, further the movement for 8 o'clock closing.

CARRIED TO SEA; DROWNED. SAN DIEGO, Aug. 22.—Carried out to sea at La Jolla while bathing, John Putnam, 20, of Hollywood, was drowned.

THE BLUEBIRD BUREAU

Department of Good Fellows

A post card reached us this morning from Sammy. The card showed a beautiful meadow scene in Plumas county, not far from where this little ward of the Blue Bird Bureau will begin his fight for life and happiness. Sammy told us he got the card on the train and "just wanted to let you know that I got here alright, and like it first strait. I'll write again when I'm not so tired. Yours, Sammy."

Do you know what one sweet little girl in Oakland did for the Blue Bird Bureau? She organized a magic lantern show and called all her little friends together. Then she told them about the Blue Bird Bureau and charged them all two pennies or so to see the show. The proceeds amounted to one dollar and ninety-two cents, and today we got a check from the little girl's father covering the total receipts. This little girl is the daughter of one of the city's best known business men. Accompanying her father's check was the following letter:

Dear Blue Bird Bureau: Every

night I read about the Blue Bird Bureau with a great deal of interest. I was anxious to help in some way so I gave a little picture show with my magic lantern yesterday. I hope you will use this money which ever way you think best. Yours truly, FRANCES S.

Frances, we're going to use that money to buy milk for a little baby now in West Oakland, and we'll show your letter to the mother and tell her who's our good little friend.

Well, would you believe it, nobody has come forward with that "train what you wind up" for little Billy, who is waiting patiently at the Children's hospital. At least, no one has notified us of any interest in the matter, which strikes us as rather odd. Let some person who is feeling rather old and lonely take out a little train—one that winds up—to Billy, and see if the years don't drop from your shoulders and the sun doesn't shine a little brighter at having made at least one firm and admiring friend.

Agents of the Blue Bird Bureau spent all of yesterday morning visiting the manufacturing center of the city. They called upon the managers and laid before them the necessity of obtaining jobs for youths who need them. Co-operation was promised in every instance and a long step has been taken toward solving a vexatious problem.

night I read about the Blue Bird Bureau with a great deal of interest. I was anxious to help in some way so I gave a little picture show with my magic lantern yesterday. I hope

AUTO MEN ORGANIZE

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22.—Organized for the purpose of uniting automobile drivers, journeymen employees in garages, master mechanics, machineists and all others engaged in the automobile business into a compact body, the Brotherhood of Commercial Automobile Engineers of America have filed articles of incorporation here. The organization is a non-profit-sharing body.

Judson Official Tells of Labor Dispute

W. H. French, vice-president of the Judson Manufacturing Company of Emeryville and Oakland, today gave out the following statement relative to the labor situation in the structural shop: "Justice to the Judson Manufacturing Company calls for a plain statement of facts.

"Six weeks ago the structural shop men demanded an eight-hour day. For several years the shop has been operated on an eight and a half-hour basis and has been unable to profitably compete with the nine-hour day of the San Francisco structural shops. Consequently the eight-hour day could not be conceded by the Judson Company, and the structural employees went out on strike.

"Customers have pressed the Judson Company for the completion of structural contracts on hand at the time of the eight-hour demand. The company recently called together a number of its own structural workers and offered to reopen the shop on the eight and a half-hour day, with the concession to change to eight hours whenever the competitive shops around San Francisco accepted that basis. The Judson workers present were ready to accept the terms. They agreed to take steps, at once, to hold a meeting of the local union and there place themselves on record as willing to resume work on the eight and a half-hour basis.

"The management has since been informed that the meeting was held but the leaders of the structural workers' strike, but the use of sharp parliamentary practice, prevented the Judson men from going on record in favor of the proposed agreement.

"The Judson Manufacturing Company has reopened the structural shop and employed those of its own structural workers who accepted the eight and a half-hour day.

"Union labor officials have now insinuated, so the management is informed, that unless the Judson Company concedes the eight-hour day in the structural shop, they will use every endeavor to bring about a sympathetic strike in all the other shops of the company's plant.

"If such be done, the Judson Company has decided not to engage in such a fight. It frankly declares that if such pressure be brought to bear, it will go out of business as a structural firm. It has ceased to solicit structural work pending a settlement of the labor difficulty.

"Should the Judson Manufacturing company be forced out of the structural business, the responsibility will rest wholly and solely with the labor union."

Actress in Serious Way; Drinks Alcohol

LONG BEACH, Aug. 22.—Kathleen Weston, 21, an actress, drank a pint of denatured alcohol in her apartment here last night and is in a serious condition at the county hospital, Los Angeles. She kept crying out that she wanted to go to her mother, who died four months ago. Melancholy over her mother's death is supposed to have prompted her act.

Why Most Women Prefer a Modern Gas Range

GAS RANGES were awarded Gold Medals at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. Such recognition is an unprejudiced evidence of superiority, and supports our claims that no Ranges excel Modern Gas Ranges in durability—economy—efficiency. This, then, is the reason that more of these Ranges are in use than any other line manufactured—that women prefer them to any other.

That you may know more of the advantages of the Range we describe herewith some of the special and exclusive features they possess.

THEY BAKE BETTER
No other ranges bake so evenly and quickly because they cannot have the same oven construction. It's a patented and exclusive feature.

BEST EQUIPPED
The snowy white porcelain parts with which all cabinet style gas ranges are equipped make them not only sanitary but beautiful. Modern Enamel Gas Ranges are planned for gas-saving.

EASIEST CLEANED
The rich, velvety, baked-on black finish which requires no stove blacking and the rounded smooth castings take the work out of cleaning.

MOST ECONOMICAL
You can bake and broil at the same time as one set of burners heat both oven and broiler. Ranges are planned for gas-saving.

THEY LAST LONGER
The material used in construction has been selected after making exhaustive tests. Modern Gas Ranges are a quality product built to give years of useful service.

BEST COOKING TOP
Made the right size so all the top burners can be used without crowding. Five burners provided, a giant, eliminating and three regular burners.

WONDERFULLY CONVENIENT
Oven things can be easily removed. Top burners lift from place. Gas valves are adjustable to any gas pressure. They are simplicity and perfection combined.

GAS-SAVING BURNERS
Complete burner cast in one piece. No parts to warp or allow gas to escape. Made also shaped so air can mix readily with the gas and produce the hottest flame.

RECALL OF A FOREIGN CONSUL.

Perhaps it is true that the rules of diplomatic intercourse place the action of the Chinese Consul-General at San Francisco in reporting to the administration at Washington illegal and unjust conduct on the part of the immigration officials stationed at Angel Island in the category of "indiscretions," calling for his recall by his government. But in this specific case, the practice is working out to the prejudice of honest administration of one of our own governmental bureaus.

Readers of this paper will recall that Consul General Shu's report of conditions in the immigration station was clearly justified by the facts recited therein. His report was free of censure of United States officials. He merely informed the authorities at Washington that discrimination and arbitrary methods were being employed in the handling of Chinese whose right to entry into the United States was in question. The immigration officials have long been accustomed to keep petitioners for entry in confinement on the island for unnecessarily long periods—from two to six months appears about the average detention. It is alleged that one Chinese has been held for a year. Announcements of decisions denying entry have habitually been made on the eve of the departure of a steamer for the Orient. Mr. Shu pointed out that this worked to deprive Chinese of the opportunity to ask relief through the courts; it was unnecessary for him to say that the procedure was planned to serve this very object.

The administration has reported no direct action on Consul General Shu's report and from the information available conditions have not been improved since it was filed. But the Chinese government has been asked to discipline its representative because he presumed to report official irregularities inimical to the just treatment of his countrymen.

It is vastly more important that the conditions at the immigration station complained against be corrected. The vicious arbitrariness of immigration officials, not only at this, but at other ports, has long been a public scandal. Surely the federal government is strong enough and should be competent enough to perform its work in a legal and proper manner. If bureau officials are permitted to practice injustice toward foreigners who must encounter them there is danger that they will not be faithful to the trust the federal government reposes in them. This suspicion is accentuated by the fact that a number of local immigration officials are at present under indictment by a federal grand jury for alleged conspiracy to smuggle Chinese laborers into California. Through the interference of the Commissioner of Immigration and other Department of Labor officials these men are permitted to retain actively their places in the public service.

While Mr. Shu is an able and highly respected foreign official, his recall will be accepted with complaisance if the Washington administration will display half as much enthusiasm to eradicate irregularities from the immigration service.

THE GROWING SCHOOL POPULATION.

The question of adequate housing accommodations for the school children of Oakland is becoming daily more serious. Enrollment in the public schools for the present term is 4500 more than a year ago. Only partial steps have been taken to meet the increases in school population for 1915 and 1914. All the city's schools are crowded. More room must be provided. The increase in the school population for the last year alone requires six new buildings, each of 800 pupils capacity. There will be further increases in the number of school children this year, next year, and for many of the future years.

These are plain, naked conditions. The city officials and the people must face them and provide for their solution. They are very pleasant conditions, a source of civic pride and gratification. They indicate increase in the city's population, municipal growth and development. Oakland's splendid schools have exerted a powerful influence in bringing in new residents, but the capacity of the present buildings has now been reached and exceeded. The city should not neglect or delay to meet the demands for new educational facilities, and the municipal administration should at once start to provide for the 4500 new pupils this year and the five or six thousand additional that will be waiting for enrollment in 1917.

"PEACE" OVERTURES REJECTED.

Mr. Bryan cannot get his idea for the arbitration of quarrels accepted even for domestic purposes. He submitted the scheme which he wrote into thirty arbitration treaties with foreign nations, during his term as secretary of state, for the settlement of the railroad controversy; not only has President Wilson ignored it, but he has advanced an entirely different plan, and of his own invention.

In a letter dated August 14, Mr. Bryan called the attention of the railway operators and employees to the plan embodied in the new peace treaties with foreign countries, which he said, represented three-fourths of the population of the world. He placed special emphasis on the provision for a commission on investigation composed of five members, one appointed by each nation from among its own citizens, one appointed from each nation from a friendly nation and the fifth agreed upon by the contracting parties.

Mr. Bryan thought this plan could be applied to the labor dispute. It is not improbable that he was right. The scheme for forming a commission, while much older than Mr. Bryan, is an acceptable one and can be generally relied upon to result in an impartial mediatory body. The provision of the peace treaties that neither side to a controversy are bound to accept the findings of the commission of investigation, but are left complete freedom of subsequent action, ought also to fit in with the temper of the employers and the brotherhoods. It is as amiable and mild a suggestion as a mild-mannered man ever devised.

But Mr. Wilson will not consider it. Neither does he appreciate the peaceful spirit with which it is tendered. He will give no credit to the courage of Mr. Bryan, although, considering past experience, this was of no mean quality. Mr. Bryan's peace plan had once been repudiated by Mr. Wilson. In the crisis with Germany over the Lusitania case, the Nebraskan, in a panic of fear of another impending great war, resigned from the cabinet because, as he announced, the President rejected his arbitration plan. It must have been with great diffidence and humility, therefore, that Mr. Bryan offered his antidote for disputes for use in a local industrial controversy. Its acceptance would have been solace to the sore heart of the noted Chautauquan. But the bitter cup will not pass.

The latest addition to the British defense of the realm act requires all "friendly aliens" in England to enlist in the military service or return to their own country. It has been met with a loud protest from the Jews in England. Thousands of the alien Jews are religious or political exiles from Russia. The alternative to compulsory enlistment is therefore especially severe; it is deportation to a land of great and tragic suffering, of repression and persecution. There is an old and highly-prized tradition in England—that the political and religious outlaws of other countries are not necessarily injurious members of society. It is so ancient and precious a privilege that, as the protesting Jews say, to exact a price appears unnatural. It has come to be regarded as one of the safeguards of civilization, zealously upheld in the United States as well as in Great Britain. Should it ever be repudiated?

As proof of the public approval of his seeking places in the diplomatic service for deserving Democrats, Mr. Bryan submits, over his signature, a statement to the effect that when he resigned as secretary of state he received a gift of a gold watch from the employees of the Department of State. Thus is the wicked policy of raiding the civil service to reward partisans justified.

Campaign managers are authority for the statement that the President plans to stand on his record. Empty words make a very unstable foundation.

MORAL PREPAREDNESS.

(From the New York Tribune.)

Parents who would bring up their children to expect everything and give up nothing often cannot understand why the nation should not be equally indulgent toward these favored ones. The truth cannot be repeated too often that a pampered son is a national menace. He is a living negation of the American spirit. The practice of certain indulgent parents of shielding their children from every difficulty and danger and helping to bring up a generation of soft, self-seeking, ease loving men, who cannot stand this universe and begin to blubber every time they are asked to bear their share of life's burdens, is the surest way to invite national disaster.

There is no country in the world where people demand more of life than we do, no place where ease and comfort are so easily attained, no place where one may so easily become the victim of the illusion that he, at least, has been lifted out of the struggle for existence. All too prevalent is the desire to find an easy berth for one's self, to seek some magical short cut to the possession and enjoyment of the good things of earth, shirk the hard knocks, and pass on the disagreeable end of the business of living to some one else.

Every republic in history which has failed has gone down principally for the reason that its pampered citizens wanted somebody else to bear their burdens and do their fighting for them. The best thing about this Mexican trouble is that it has provided an opportunity to impress upon a hundred thousand young men of this country so that they will never forget the lesson that patriotism is something more than mere sentiment about the flag, that manhood demands strenuous effort, that the advantages of a great free national life may not be enjoyed without discipline, self-sacrifice, and hard, commonplace tasks well done and shared by all.

NOTES and COMMENT

Committeeman Rowell seems to have walked out at about the same time the Commercial Club waiters did.

The mighty gathering of Saturday must be accepted as evidence of how Oakland and Alameda county feel about it.

A Sacramento who listened while the governor spoke, testifies that he promised, if elected senator, to do for the nation what he has done for California. That is just exactly it!

This curious information is conveyed in a heading: "Nuptials wait until father of bridegroom is court-plastered." The explanation is that there was an auto collision on the way.

It has been noted as a rather singular thing the readiness with which city people on vacation, not generally used to river currents, plunge into mountain streams with their rushing waters and are swept to death.

At Long Beach Hughes was in the same hotel with Governor Johnson for half an hour. The coincidental presence of the two was accidental, and the candidate for the presidency was not aware of it, but the candidate for the senatorship must have been.

The first fatal deer-hunting accident occurred at Portland. A boy was mistaken for antlered game. How would it do to have examination of all applying for hunters' licenses as to their ability to distinguish a human being from a deer?

This is what the Hanford Sentinel says about it: "The expected has happened. National Committeeman Rowell has seen Hughes, talked to Hughes—but not with him, since Hughes did all the listening and none of the talking—and has his trip for his pains. Hughes would and could do nothing for the alleviation of the itch with which Rowell professes to be victimized."

An influx of brides is thus told of by the Holtville Tribune: "Something like fifty Japanese brides will be in Brawley within the next sixty days, is the information received from Japanese sources in the valley. These brides will come with their husbands from Japan, but the husbands are known in and around Brawley, where they have been leasing land and growing crops for the early markets."

Former Governor Walsh of Massachusetts said recently that a visit to the Philippine Islands had been a revelation to him. "I did not think it possible," he said, "that such a great work could be done by the government in the short space of fifteen years." That is Democratic testimony that is important, in view of the efforts of a Democratic administration to haul down the flag there.

Interesting item from the Ventura Free Press about a one-time Oakland newspaper man: "Sol Sheridan, secretary of the Ventura Chamber of Commerce ever since the reorganization of that body several years ago, has resigned and on September 1 will go on the road as advance agent for the 'Mission Play,' which will soon start on a two years' tour of the United States and Canada."

All leaves are to look alike at Sacramento. And they are to cost ten cents apiece. The account says this is due to the steady increase in the price of flour, "twenty cents a barrel having been added Saturday." A barrel contains 196 pounds of flour, or used to in the days of the older arithmetic, and it will thus be seen that there was nothing left but to boost the price of a loaf almost double.

In this day of rapid procession of eminent men across the screen not everybody will remember the one-time prominence of the Hon. George F. Edmunds. For years he represented Vermont in the Senate and was a leader in the nation's councils. That he survives will be news, perhaps, to a great many. And we are reminded that he is a resident of California by the fact that Candidate Hughes called upon him at Pasadena on Sunday.

Catastrophe at Richmond, particulars told by the Record-Herald: "An air of deep silence permeated the council room last night. Each member was scratching his cranium, knitting his brow and wearing the puzzled look of one in deepest thought. City Attorney Hall was reading in a chanting voice an agreement between the city and the Tay Counties Land Company. Suddenly there was a splitting crash followed by a heavy thump and the rattle of enamelware. City Engineer Chapman had stretched his spring chair back until it busted, catapulting him into a cuspidor."

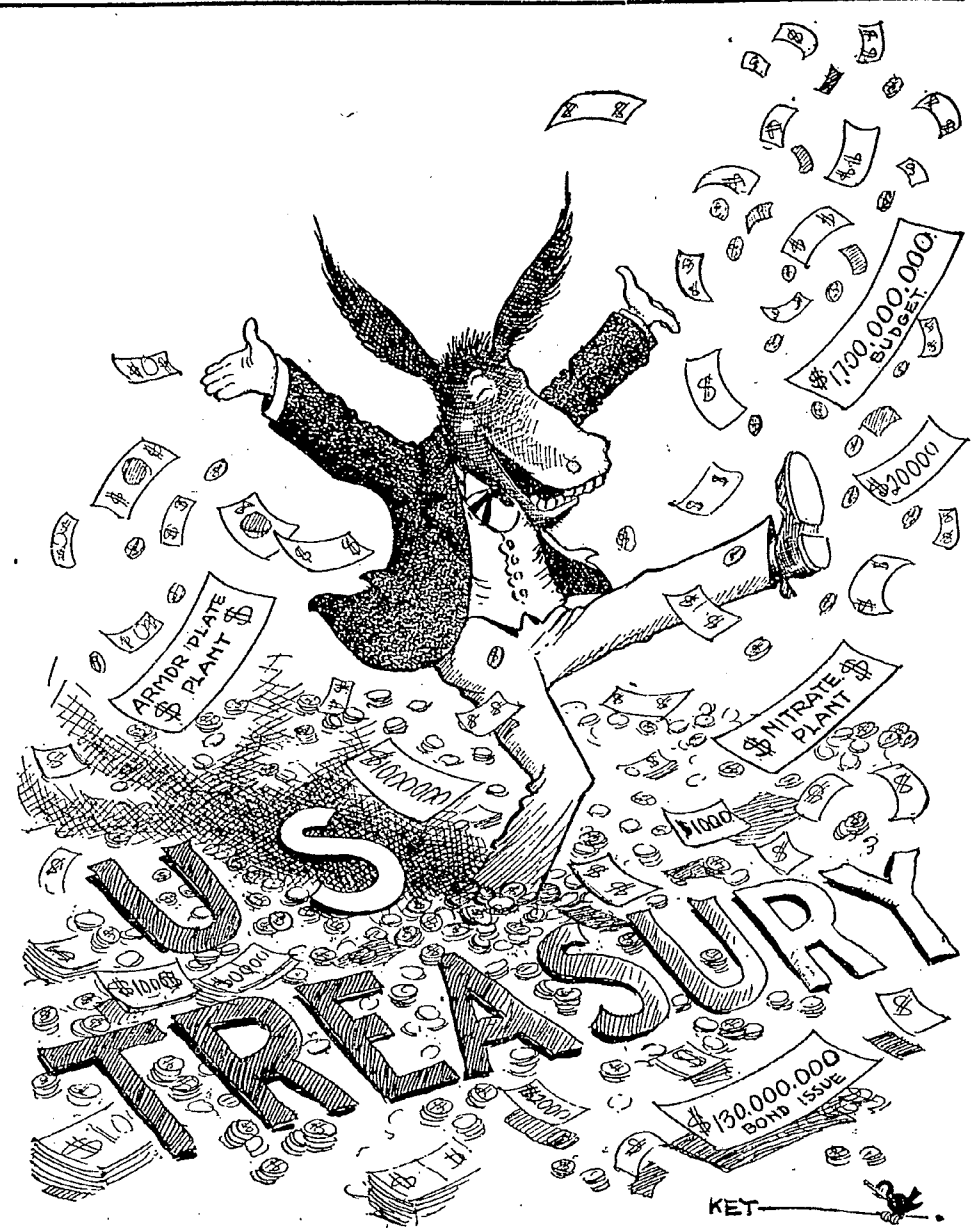

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

The New York World argues for Wilson's re-election on the ground that if he is defeated there will be four months—from election day to inauguration day—when none of the European belligerents will know what our foreign policy is to be. That, however, will not trouble them. They have not known at any time within the last three years what our foreign policy was to be from day to day.—Woodland Mail.

Mrs. C. D. Tindall, a former resident of Ukiah, passed away at her home near Highline, Imperial county, on the morning of the 4th of August. A few hours following her death, her daughter Eva, who had just passed her eighteenth birthday, was taken suddenly ill and died after three days of unconsciousness.—Mendocino Dispatch-Democrat.

The beautiful and compelling Emersonian theory that every ill hath its compensating good; that "varieties of conditions tend to equalize themselves," is illustrated this fall in the fact that, while the spring frosts have resulted in a cut and curtailment of the almond and prune crops, there will be topnotch prices paid for such harvests as are gathered.—Chico Enterprise.

THE 'LAST CHANCE' ORGY IN EXTRAVAGANCE

TRUTH ABOUT BARBARA FRITCHIE

Writing in Harper's Magazine for August, Louise Closser Hale tells the story of Barbara Fritchie as it was told to her recently at Frederick. Her version shatters another literary myth.

"I fought with the South," said the veteran.

"He did," continued his wife, "and my brothers fought for the North. The two armies used to come raiding through the town, and pickin' each other off right in the street sometimes."

"Scared? Why I'd be that scared I couldn't tell the colors of the uniforms. Thought I saw my brothers in the front yard, and they were Rebs. But they never hurt women, neither side."

"No, nobody ever hurt women in those days," said the old soldier.

"But us girls used to have good times with both sides. We'd joke an' laugh with the Rebs, and they'd say they would come back and marry us, and while that would make us hoppin' mad, some of 'em did come back and marry us." The old, old lady and the old, old gentleman smiled at each other.

"This ain't tellin' her about the flag," insisted the husband.

"No, 'tain't. Daughter, run up and get that picture of Mrs. Quantrell. You know, ma'am we always felt a battle ahead, and when the orders came from Lee for General Jackson—there didn't many call him Stonewall then—to march his troops through the town to seize Harper's Ferry, we felt something in our bones. He came by way of that creek."

"Not past Mrs. Fritchie's house?"

"No'm, just this side of it. We were all on the stoop watchin' for Mr. Jackson, who, we had heard, always rode with a Bible under his arm. There was a good deal of delay along the road, because, you know, ma'am, they waited for the com- mander. The Confederate band was playin' down at the drug store, and it was Hill, D. H. Hill—there were two in his corps—who sent for the musicians to serenade Mrs. Quantrell and us girls. He had reined his horse alongside of us and we were all cutting up."

"All this time Mrs. Quantrell had a little Union flag in her hands. It's the rule when an army comes through a town."

THE JESTER.

His idea.

"You're charging us city prices for these raspberries," the summer resortor said to the farmer.

"Yep. You're city folks, ain't you?"

"Of course."

"And used to paying city prices?"

"That's true, but we picked these berries ourselves."

"Well, ain't that the fun you came out here to get? You don't expect to get your fun for nothing, do you?"—Detroit Free Press.

Putting Cuckoo on the Map.
On Tuesday a delegation of Louisiana citizens went to Richmond to solicit aid in building the road from Louisiana to Cuckoo.—Louisiana Virginian.

that only the flag of the army is shown, so I reckon her's was about the only one flyin'. Mrs. Fritchie was a very old lady and was sick in bed that day."

"But didn't anybody protest about it?"

"Well, Mr. Hill said, 'Madam, you ought to take that flag of yours and make an apron of it,' but quick as a flash she came back, 'you ought to take yours, sir, and make breeches out of it.' They were terribly ragged, that corps."

"Then Hill rode on, and no sooner had he gone than one of the privates, gettin' into line, grabbed it with his bayonet, and used some language that wasn't very nice. Mrs. Quantrell was as perky as you please. She made a fuss about it, and said the man ought to be arrested for rudeness to a lady. So one of the officers rode on ahead and said he'd see to it. Southern gentlemen were very particular about language before a lady. I don't suppose anything was ever done, because there was a good deal to think about just before a battle."

"But Mrs. Quantrell said, 'Girls, have any of you got a flag?' We used to all carry Union flags in the bosom of our basques, and May went into the hall and took her's out. So by the time General Jackson came along she was waving one again. He never said a word that I can remember, and we were all so excited bowin' to him that we had to laugh afterward, because we forgot to look for his Bible. Yessum, we did."

"It was the other Hill of Jackson's division—I always call him the Hill on the cream-colored horse—who brought up the rear. And he said to Mrs. Quantrell, 'You ought to be shot for wavin' that flag.' His pistol was out of its holster, but he didn't shoot her. And Mrs. Quantrell, who always had the last word, said, 'You'll be the one to be shot.'"

"You'll be the one to be shot." It seemed a kind of a prophecy, for he was killed. But then a good many was. And missary. The Confederate band was playin' down at the drug store, and it was Hill, D. H. Hill—there were two in his corps—who sent for the musicians to serenade Mrs. Quantrell and us girls. He had reined his horse alongside of us and we were all cutting up."

"All this time Mrs. Quantrell had a little Union flag in her hands. It's the rule when an army comes through a town."

"So that," I said, "is the story of Barbara Fritchie."

"Yessum. They say people who write just naturally can't tell the truth—excuse me."

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The U. C. freshmen have succeeded in arousing a feeling of enmity among the residents of East Berkeley by literally painting the town red. Fences, sidewalks and buildings were daubed.

A birthday party was given Saturday by Miss Mercedes Fabiano at her home, 808 Thirty-sixth street. A large number of young persons were present.

The engagement is announced of Miss Agnes G. Sweeney and Clyde M. Shonder. The wedding will take place in November.

The Western Union Telegraph Company has announced a general reduction in the local rates between points in California, Oregon, Washington and Nevada.

The marriage of Miss Claire Ralston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ralston, and Dr. James Bell Bullitt of Louisville, Ky., occurred this morning in St. Paul's Church.

AN OLD STORY.

Just now Berlin announces a great scientific discovery of the process of making paper from cotton stalks. We have been all through that. We have had our government scientists for years supposedly experimenting with the manufacture of paper from the cotton stalks and cornstalks and other things. The value of these discoveries so far seems about equal to that of the numerous hopeful cheap substitutes for gasoline.

HARD TO STRAIGHTEN.

Useless statistics—it has been estimated that the President's course in Mexico, if extended in a straight line, would encircle the earth three times.—Philadelphia North American.

MONROE DOCTRINE INVOLVED.

Denmark has sold to the United States her three West Indian islands for $5,000,000. This is a considerably larger sum than was paid to Russia for Alaska, which extensive territory changed hands in 1867 for a little less than a million and a half. It contrasts still more strikingly with the Louisiana purchase of 1803. By that extraordinary transaction the United States acquired from France nearly a million square miles of the richest land in the world at a total cost of less than $5,000,000. The islands have involved a continuous burden upon the Danish government, but the fact has not prevented the Danes from clinging to their possession. The agreement now completed is not a political event of any great consequence, but it is interesting in its bearing upon American policy and sentiment. The Canal has, of necessity, brought new international factors into existence, and has altered the American outlook in regard to the central zone and the strategic points of the Caribbean Sea. The implications and possibilities of the Monroe Doctrine have never been so widely discussed in North and South America as they are today, and it is noticeable that some of those now speaking and writing on the subject think it worth while to argue in favor of the purchase or exchange of all the territories owned by European powers in the Western Hemisphere. It is hard to believe that these theorists can have persuaded themselves that Jamaica and Trinidad are likely to be in the market; but they are able to contemplate without misgivings the making of Honduras and the Guianas into independent republics under a Pan-American guarantee. The idea appears sufficiently remote from actuality, but those who hold it will doubtless find a little encouragement in the deal with Denmark.—Manchester (Eng.) Guardian.

THE CHOOSERS.

Oh ye! Fragile and tremulous
Haunters of the deep glades!
Shall I see ye again,
Parting the leaves of beech and aspen
Ere ye slip through?

Men have said unto me:
These are but flying lights and shadows;
Light on the beech leaves, clouds shadow-
ing the corn fields;
The wind in the flame, of birches in autumn.

Wind shadowing the clear pools,
But ye cried, laughing, down the wind:
Men are but shadows, but a vain breath.

So, here, cometh unto me:
That cry from the receding air:
Men are but shadows! And prone about me
I see them, hushed and sleeping in the hut.

Made solemn and holy by the night,
In the dead light of the moon:
Shadowy, swathed in their blankets,
Asleep in heath, sepulchral caves
Egypt's and Asia's kings:

While between them are the footsteps
Of glittering presences, who say! Lo, one
To be a sword upon my thigh!
And the sleepers stir restlessly, murrur-
ing.

As between them pass
The bright mailed choosers of the dead.

Shall I see ye again, on flying roofs
O'er the forest haunters, while I couch
allent
In a wet brake of blossom,
Dark ivy wreathing your whiteness,
Ere I am torn from the scabbard?
(Lo, one
To be a sword upon my thigh!)

Knowing no longer that earth
Lies in the dews, shining and sacred.
—Frederic Manning, in New York Sun

BILLINGS TO BE FIRST TO FACE TRIAL

Cases of Thomas J. Mooney, Mrs. Rena Mooney and Israel Weinberg, Alleged Plotters, Are Set for September 11

Berkeley Matron and Daughter to Be Star Witnesses for Prosecution, According to Announcement by Fickert

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Warren K. Billings, ex-convict and the man whom the police say actually planted the infernal machine at Steuart and Market streets during the preparedness parade on July 22, killing nine and injuring thirty-seven persons, will be placed on trial before Superior Judge Dunne on Monday, September 11. The announcement of the defendant chosen for the first trial followed the denial of motions to set aside the indictments interposed by Attorney William Hoff Cook, representing Edward D. Nolan, the labor leader, and was followed by pleas of not guilty from all five of the accused.

Thomas J. Mooney, Mrs. Rena Mooney and Israel Weinberg, jointly accused with Billings, and Nolan, also had their cases set down for September 11, but Assistant District Attorney James Brennan announced that Billings would be tried first.

EFFORTS PROVE FUTILE.
William Mikulich, secretary of the grand jury, and District Attorney Fickert testified in connection with Cook's motion, but the latter's efforts to get into the record on a charge that Fickert had made inflammatory statement that he had evidence that would hang all of the five suspects proved futile. Fickert denied making such an assertion.

Following arguments and the dismissing of the motions and after the pleas had been entered, Attorney Maxwell McNutt, leading counsel for all of the defendants, asked for thirty days to prepare for the trial.

"We are willing to allow a two weeks' continuance," responded Brennan, "as we have a witness, Herbert A. Wade, who will not be here from Honolulu until then."

GRANTS TWO WEEKS.
"The law gives the defendants the right to a two days' continuance. I should think two weeks would be ample," said the court.

Finally a compromise was effected and September 11 decided upon.

"These men are much safer in jail," said the court, but he indicated that with a proper showing he might allow Mrs. Mooney to be brought in from the county jail at Ingleside.

WOMEN KEY TO SITUATION.
Two Berkeley women, mother and daughter, will be the star witnesses in the trials of Billings and Mooney, under indictment on charges of murder.

ADOPT HARVEST DAY SLOGAN WOMEN WORK TO HELP HOME

Three of the women who are aiding in the plans to make success of Market Day on City Hall Plaza for the benefit of West Oakland Home. They are, left to right, Mrs. A. M. Beebe, Mrs. Fred Reed and Mrs. Emil Fritsch.

In connection with the bomb outrage at the preparedness parade, the women, according to District Attorney Fickert, will tell of having seen two men, with a suitcase, near the scene of the explosion two minutes before the report was heard. The men were highly excited, say the women, and they thought at the time, might have stolen the suitcase. The importance of the testimony will be in their identification of the prisoners as the men they saw with the suitcase.

The witnesses were learned of through John W. Fitting, an engineer employed by the Realty Syndicate in Oakland. They had been silent through reluctance to be mixed in the publicity attached to the affair.

Fickert will not make public the names until the trial.

Salés Booths Will Be Erected on Plaza at City Hall

Committees of the West Oakland Home harvest day have adopted a new slogan: "More money than the Belgian market produced." This will mean an income of over $3000, but the women in charge believe that the public will more than respond to this local charity.

One more booth has been added to the list—a meat counter. The merchants' lunch is under the personal direction of Mrs. George Rynece and Mrs. Edward Hoffman.

Three hundred women, interested in the home, are doing their turn for the good of Saturday's event. The headquarters at 1426 San Pablo avenue have been donated by the owner of the building, the telephone company has given free the wire service and a well-known furniture company has furnished the large store room with necessary chairs and tables.

Among those who are doing active work in the preparations are Mrs. A. M. Beebe, Mrs. Emil Fritsch and Mrs. Fred Reed. Miss Nettie De Grossart has entire charge of the manufacture of the doughnuts for Saturday's market.

Vaughn on Trial for Camp Murder

Compton Vaughn, accused of murdering George Barnett in a construction camp at the Calaveras dam on the morning of July 5, went on trial today before a jury in the Superior Court, with Judge J. J. Trabucco presiding. Assistant District Attorney James M. Koford and Deputy Myron Harris are prosecuting the case and the defendant is represented by Attorneys Henion and McMurtry.

Vaughn will plead self-defense before the jury, seeking to prove that he was endangered by an advance against him on the part of Barnett following a quarrel over a small sum Barnett claimed to be due him at the close of a penny-ante game in the bunk house.

Relatives of Vaughn have arrived from Louisiana for the trial. Vaughn is a son of the late Kate Compton Vaughn, a well-known New Orleans literary woman. He failed in business in the South two years ago and went to the canal zone. Last December he came to San Francisco and worked at different occupations until July, when he obtained a job in the construction camp.

Tehama Residents to Gather Here

Several hundred residents of the bay cities who formerly made their homes in Tehama county will assemble next Saturday in Mosswood park for the eighth annual reunion of the Red Bluff and Tehama County Association. A special program has been prepared for the occasion by President F. J. Mayhew and Secretary Anna R. Staubes, and there will be no dull moments during the afternoon. Basket lunches will be carried by the participants, and coffee will be served in the park.

A feature of the reunion will be the attendance of "Grandfather" West of Cornish, who has reached the green old age of 104 years and three months. He has seen three generations grow to manhood in Tehama county and is hopeful of more years of activity.

Tehama county has the honor at the present time of being the "honor county" of California, having won the first prize at the last state fair.

THIEVES TAKE DIAMONDS.
A $60 pair of diamond earrings were stolen from the home of J. Parkas, 29 Glenwood avenue, and the police have been asked to aid in their recovery. The jewelry was taken from a bureau drawer, where Parkas was accustomed to putting them. A gold ring and a diamond band were stolen from the pocket of P. H. Teller, 33 Acacia avenue, while he was riding on a street car between Alameda and this city. A purse containing $2.50 was also taken.

ROBBERS IN AUTO ESCAPE UNDER FIRE

Crooks Interrupted After They Had Taken One Quarter of Hardware Stock From a Store in East Oakland

Patrolman Sends Hail of Shot After Fleeing Automobile When Thieves Return to Place for Second Load

Burglars who need an automobile to carry one-fourth of the stock from the shelves of the hardware store of Walter W. Lydsksen, 1256 Twenty-third avenue, were seen by Patrolman K. Petersen when they returned for a second load of hardware, and escaped from the place in a hail of bullets. Petersen was unable to halt the robbers, and because of the darkness could not get their automobile license number.

The burglars, of whom there were four, removed immediately one-fourth of the stock of the store before they were satisfied with their morning's work. The value of the loot taken has not yet been computed.

The four thieves could not carry enough away on their first trip, and after disposing of their first load, they returned for a second attempt at 4 o'clock. As they were about to alight from their car they were seen by Patrolman Petersen, who had tried the front door of the Lydsksen store and found it unlocked.

ESCAPE WHILE UNDER FIRE.

They saw the officer as he emerged from the doorway and scrambled back into their car. Petersen shouted to them as they swung away to twenty-third avenue at a high rate of speed. He fired a number of shots at the fleeing car, but does not believe that any of the thieves were hit. He was unable to secure the license number of the automobile in the darkness.

Lydsksen and a force of clerks are busily engaged in taking stock of the looted shelves in the store. Garden implements, watches, silver knives, forks and other tableware, and a score of other different articles, made up the varied loot of the thieves.

POLICE ARE INVESTIGATING.

Police Inspectors Timothy Flynn and William F. Kyle have been detailed on the daring robbery and are today seeking clues which will place them on the trail of the robbers.

Photographs of finger print impressions left by the thieves in their operations about the place are being made by the identification bureau and will be compared with prints in the police records.

The manner in which the thieves operated this morning causes the police to believe that they are old hands, and it is believed a clew to their identity will be found in the back files of the department.

No Warrants for "Potato King" Case

Designating the troubles between John Perati, "potato king," his wife, Marguerite, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Joseph E. Edgar, as a "family row," Assistant District Attorney James M. Koford has refused to issue warrants as a result of the firing of shots by Perati at his Grand avenue home last Saturday night. Perati sought a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Edgar, alleging that she had threatened him with a revolver and she wanted him arrested for alleged threat of attack. The Peratis are involved in a divorce suit and controversy over their extensive community property interests.

BOY HIIT BY AUTO.

Henry DeCarbone, a 12-year-old boy of 6341 Hillegass street, is suffering from a contusion of the right arm today after being run down by automobile No. 203041, owner and driver at present unknown. The boy was attended by Dr. Charles S. Powell, 354 Alcatraz avenue, and is resting easily from shock and his wounds. The police are working on the case.

MUST STOP GAMES.

Wheel of fortune games installed by stationery and confectionery stores in the vicinity of schools have been ordered removed by Chief of Police Petersen. According to the police official, small establishments which depend on school children's trade have been playing small coin games of chance in their stores with candy and small prizes as winnings.

Oakland, Iowa, to Hold to Its Name

Six Hundred Angry at Suggestion

Oakland, Iowa, will not change its name any more than Oakland, Illinois, or any of the other Oakland of the United States will. There is nothing doing—decidedly nothing doing! Every one of the 600 population of the thriving Iowa town says so.

Says the president of the Chamber of Commerce of Iowa's Oakland: "The proposition is so absurd that I did not even call a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to consider it."

A storm of protest has floated in on the Oakland Chamber of Commerce ever since Secretary Joseph E. Caine wrote the various small towns bearing the name Oakland, stating that his Oakland was the oldest and largest, and urging that they change their names. Caine also offered to pay for changing the seals, signs and other labels of all the towns agreeing to the proposition.

All have flatly refused. "We expected they would," said Publicity Director Eugene Howles. "But we got publicity. Every one in the country knows that there is an Oakland, California, now." In other words, all the Oakland "fell" for a "press agent stunt."

Geffene Identified by Two Witnesses

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—James Geffene, on trial for the murder of Biaggio Vilardo, was positively identified by two witnesses as Pietro Torturici in Superior Judge Franklin Griffing's court today. George Schmadke, a laborer who was paying attention to a young woman residing in a flat above that occupied by the Torturici, asserted that he could not be mistaken in his statement that Geffene is Torturici. Likewise Pelipio Fatitto, who for three years worked with Torturici at the American Company, declared that he could not be in error and said dramatically, "That is Torturici sitting over there."

Vilardo, a lodger in the Torturici home, was slain and his body dismembered and thrown into the bay. Torturici fled the city and the man in custody was arrested last March in Seattle.

STATE REAPS $1,993,171 ON VEHICLE TAX

189,610 Machines and 25,935 Motorcycles Given Licenses During First Six Months of Fiscal Year, Says Report

Alameda County Ranks Third With 13,311 Cars; Alpine Pays for Twelve Autos; L. A. First; San Francisco Second

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22.—There are 189,610 automobiles, 25,935 motorcycles, 16,191 chauffeurs, 1254 automobile dealers and 193 motorcycle dealers in California, according to the semi-annual report announced by Superintendent H. A. French of the State motor vehicle department.

The State of California and its fifty-eight counties are the beneficiaries of the vehicle license and free requirement in that one-half the proceeds go to each to be used in the maintenance of roads and highway systems. The counties of the state for the six months in this year ending June 30, will receive from the State a total of $852,474.81.

There are twelve automobiles in Alpine county—the smaller number in any one county in the State—and from these the fees amount to $36.94.

Los Angeles leads the State in automobiles, the payment of fees and the money received for use on the county roads. There are 61,137 automobiles in the Southern California city, 8012 motorcycles, and the collections amount to $653,354.17, out of which the county gets $261,042.81 for road repairs.

San Francisco is next on the list with 20,157 automobiles, 1836 motorcycles. The gross receipts are $235,334.93 and the county gets $104,482.39 for use on the roads.

Alameda comes third, showing 14,221 automobiles, 1948 motorcycles, $141,078.54 gross receipts and $63,455.03 for use on the roads of the county.

MARTIN HAS WON THREE CUPS IN THE TRIBUNE MARATHON

Former Leader of Y. M. C. A. Is Now Out for Pilot Winners for Technical High.

C. F. Martin bears the distinction of being the only man who has won the Tribune Marathon three times. He won it in 1911, 1912 and 1913. This year he is again competing for the prize. He is now out for the Y. M. C. A. and is organizing a team to compete for the prize and to represent the Y. M. C. A. in the annual race.

HOWARD DREW OFF TRACK FOREVER

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Southern athletic circles were shocked today to hear that Howard Drew, world famous sprinter, would never race again. The colored wonder is suffering from paralysis, following his effort to cut down the lead of Henry Williams, the Spokane sprinter, at San Diego Saturday.

The paralysis is the indirect result, it is said, of an injury sustained last March by Drew while competing in an indoor race in New York.

Drew first gained prominence as a sprinter while attending high school at Springfield, Mass. He was a member of the American team which entered the world's track and field meet at Stockholm, Sweden, in 1912. Upon his return from Sweden, Drew entered the University of Southern California, and it was during his attendance at that institution some of his particularly notable track achievements were made.

OLIVER MILLARD WILL NOT RUN FOURTH TRIBUNE RACE

Twice Marathon Winner Will Step Out for New Star in History of Great Event

JOYOUS NEWS, BOYS! Oliver Millard and Edgar Stout, star runners of the Olympic Club, will not be in the fourth annual TRIBUNE Merritt Marathon. This means much to the runners in the great race, for they were practically conceded a first place this year. Stout is a great runner, and would have captured a first place near that of his teammate, Millard. Both will be out of the race this year, as they are members of the Olympic Club team that will invade the East for the A. A. U. games at Newark.

KILBANE EASES OFF IN TRAINING

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 22.—Featherweight Champion Johnny Kilbane will do less boxing while training for his 15-round battle with George Cheneay at Cedar Point on Labor day than any former or present titleholder. Kilbane personally announced today that he will not go more than four rounds with the gloves each day. Practically all his training will be through the medium of the rope, road, handball and punching bag.

JEW HOPE RELIEF AT NEXT DUMA

Legislation to Abolish the Pale May Be Offered by Majority Party in Session of National Congress of Czar

Leader of Cadets Says Light Is Breaking for Hordes Under Harsh Rule of Emperor, and Prospects Seem Inviting

PETROGRAD, Aug. 22.—A bill to abolish the Pale and give to Jews the same rights as other Russian subjects will be introduced in the Imperial Duma when that body convenes in November. Professor Paul Milukov, leader of the cadets, said today, following his return from a visit to England, France and Italy with other members of the Russian house.

"This bill has the support of the progressive party in the Duma, therefore," the majority," said Milukov. "It will contain three essential parts. The first has for its object the removal of the Pale (within which the Jews in Russia with a few exceptions have had to make their homes), thus enabling them to live wherever they choose. The second will remove some of the educational limitations placed on the Jews and the third will make it possible for him to choose any profession or trade he care to."

While abroad I had long talks with the Bocheschevichs, both in England and France, with Professor Levy of the Sorbonne at Paris, and other representative Jews. At the coming session I shall acquaint all the members with what I was told. We realize that Russia's dealings are indeed the most degrading he has been affected by Russia's policy in the Jewish question."

The bill to remove the limitations placed on Jews will not pass, however, without considerable opposition. The opponents say that the Jews would soon have the peasants at their mercy because they are keener business men. Particularly do Russian leaders resent outside interference in settling the Jewish problem. Professor Milukov is a lecturer on history at Moscow university, the author of a number of historical works and an expert on the Balkans. He made a lecture tour to the United States in 1905, speaking on the Russian crisis.

Injunctions Halt Pickets in S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—With eighteen injunctions in force restraining picketing in front of as many different restaurants, the strike of the culinary workers is still in full swing, and the bulletins issued by the employers and strikers resemble those which come from the European war zones. Each side claims important victories with tremendous losses for the enemy.

The eighteen restaurants between which pickets are now prohibited from walking with their red ribbons are The Hot Iron, Angelo Kanaris, Albert Schwartz, John D. Antoniadis, Germain Pouchan, John Suhr Company, Gerardo Ratto, Chris Desalarnos, Gaston Haritopoulos, Carlos A. A. Johnston, A. D. Cox and John J. Duffy, Quaker Cafeteria Company, Pete Provolos, F. J. Dunham, Charles Tolini, G. Diller, Jerry Adrian and the Phoenix Restaurant. The injunctions will be argued before Judge John Hunt on August 31.

The waiters who walked out of the Commercial Club while Charles E. Hughes was being entertained at lunch, have not returned to the positions. Both Prosper Reiter, manager of the cafe department, and Secretary Ernst of the strikers declare that they will not return—but the reasons they give differ greatly.

Cruiser Cleveland Breaks Propeller

VALLEJO, Aug. 22.—Commandant F. M. Bennett of Mare Island received a wireless Monday from Commander A. H. House, commanding the cruiser Cleveland, to the effect that the vessel lost her starboard propeller and was unable to move while cruising in Mexican waters last week. The vessel is now coming up the coast, escorted by the refrigerated ship Glacier and the two craft will probably arrive here Friday.

The accident will keep the Cleveland at Mare Island for at least two months and during that time it is believed that both the hull and machinery department mechanics will be able to perform most of her necessary repairs.

EARMARK REVEALS PET.
LIVERMORE, Aug. 22.—The carcass of a large star brought in by a party of local hunters who had been hunting for the past two weeks has been identified by County Fire Warden John McGinty as being that of a pet fawn that had escaped from the old Quantain Hare cattle ranch thirteen years ago. He recognized it from peculiar ear markings cut in by cowboys of the ranch at that time.

Various Forms Of Headache

"It is necessary in order to treat headaches properly to understand the causes which produce the affection," says Dr. J. W. Ray, of Blocton, Ala. Continuing, he says: "Physicians cannot even begin the treatment of a disease without knowing what causes give rise to it, and we must remember that headache is to be treated according to the same rule. We must not only be particular to give a remedy intended to counteract the cause which produces the headache, but we must also give a remedy to relieve the pain until the cause of the trouble has been removed. To answer this purpose, anti-kamnia tablets will be found a most convenient and satisfactory remedy. It cures every one of the three kinds of headache and rest in the most severe cases of headache, neuralgia and particularly the headaches of women."

When we have a patient subject to regular attacks of sick headache, we should caution him to keep his bowels regular, for which medicine in better than "castor oil," and when he feels the least sign of an oncoming attack, he should take two A-K Tablets. Such patients should always be instructed to carry a few anti-kamnia tablets, so as to have them ready for instant use. These tablets are prompt in action and can be depended on to produce relief in a very few minutes. Ask for A-K Tablets. Anti-kamnia tablets at all druggists.

MRS. RACHEL HAYWARD.

Has Guests From Oakland and Alameda on Birthday

HAYWARD, Aug. 22.—Mrs. Rachael Hayward, known as the "mother of Hayward," and whose late husband founded this city, has celebrated her eighty-fifth birthday. Her guests at the birthday celebration were her daughter, Mrs. Mollie Pope, Oakland, and grand daughters, Mrs. Maudie Edith Pope and Mrs. Rachel Crockett, both of Oakland, and Mrs. Edward Scott of Alameda. Pioneer days in this section of Alameda county, in the building up of which she and her husband had a leading part, were recalled by Mrs. Hayward.

Farm Bureaus Will Post Home Meetings

HAYWARD, Aug. 22.—Meetings of the Hayward and Castro Valley centers of the Farm Bureaus have been postponed this month because Farm Adviser C. W. Rubel has been on vacation.

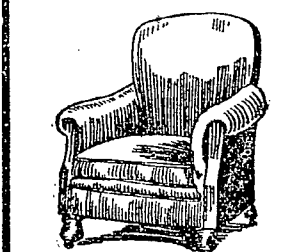

The different centers of the bureau throughout the county will meet during the latter part of this month as follows: Irvington, August 22; Pleasanton, August 23; Centerville, August 24; Newark, August 25 and Niles, August 31. Rubel will show a set of lantern slides on rural public health at the August meetings.

W. O. W. TO RALLY.
HAYWARD, Aug. 22.—The Woodmen of the World district rally will be held in the hall of the Camp of the Order this evening. Old Orchard Camp of San Lorenzo will participate and the rally will be in charge of members of the Alameda county committee.

KILLED BY TRAIN.
SAN RAFAEL, Aug. 22.—Run down by a fast Northwestern Pacific electric train at Ross avenue crossing in San Anselmo, Frank Grubert, a business man of this city, died from internal injuries two hours later at the West End hospital. Grubert was driving a horse-drawn vehicle at the time of the accident yesterday. Defective hearing prevented him from hearing the train until it was almost upon him.

If Too Fat Get More Fresh Air

BE MODERATE IN YOUR DIET AND REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT. TAKE OIL OF KOREIN.

Lack of fresh air, it is said, weakens the oxygen-carrying power of the blood, the liver becomes sluggish, fat accumulates and the action of many of the vital organs are hindered thereby. The heart, lungs and bowels work in an effort, and the beauty of the figure is destroyed. Fat put on by indoor life is unhealthy and if nature is not assisted in throwing it off, a serious case of obesity may result. When you feel that you are getting too stout, take the matter in hand at once. Don't wait until your figure has become a joke and your health ruined through carrying around a burden of unsightly and unhealthy fat. Spend as much time as you possibly can in the open air; breathe deeply, and get from Drug Dept. at Kahn's, Broadway, San Pablo and Sixteenth street, or any druggist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night. Watch yourself every few days and keep up the treatment until you are down to normal. Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, helps the digestion and even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight.—Advertisement.

Lone Porto Rican Pays Tax on $100,000 Income

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Aug. 22.—One man in Porto Rico had an income in excess of $100,000 last year, according to income tax returns just announced by the tax bureau of the Insular Treasury. This was the largest single income the tax department discovered and it is almost twice as large as the largest individual income reported to the same authorities the year before, when there was but one income above $50,000 listed. Of the largest individual incomes recorded for 1915 there are twenty in excess of $50,000, and of these twenty, fourteen range between $50,000 and $75,000; five between $75,000 and $100,000 and one above $100,000. Sixty-six individuals are assessed on personal incomes ranging between $20,000 and $50,000.

In all there are 957 individuals and 131 corporations taxed on income. The total revenue amounts to $120,000, as compared with $77,000 for the previous year. High prices for sugar have been responsible for most of the biggest incomes, officials say, and still larger incomes and more individuals having incomes large enough to be taxed are predicted for the current year.

Fishermen Rush to Catalina Tuna Run

AVALON, Catalina Island, Aug. 22.—Tuna is running off the island today and fishermen are rushing here from all sections.

The season was opened by James O'Neill, who exhibited 130 pounds of a 150-pound tuna which alternately battered the fisherman and a huge swordfish for nearly two hours. Its tail bitten off and a huge chunk gouged from its side, the gammy fish finally surrendered to O'Neill, the monster broadbill following it to the boat's gunwale. The tuna, torn and shredded, had been placed eight times by the rushes of the swordfish.

Allen's Foot-Ease For the Troops

Many war zone hospitals have ordered Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder, for use among the troops. Shaken into the shoes and used in the foot-bath, Allen's Foot-Ease gives rest and comfort, takes the friction from the shoe, and prevents the feet getting tired or foot-sore. Drug and Department Stores everywhere sell it. Don't accept any substitute. Try it today.—Advertisement.

The State of California, through its Market Director, makes the first announcement of its plan to market

FISH

First in History

For the first time in the history of business so far as we know a commodity is to be marketed by a method in which the consumer the retailer the wholesaler and the producer all have a say. The interests of each are protected through control by the State Commission Market acting under the law of the State. The consumer will be protected in the price of fish by the daily publication of the maximum retail prices. By this plan it is hoped to so increase the use of fish that the cost of living will be less while the greater amount of business thus given the fishermen and dealers will pay them for lower prices. By using simpler methods waste will be cut out. The benefit to the consumer in the effort being made is that of getting fresh fish daily at lower costs. The sales of fresh fish in this vicinity alone amount at retail to about three million dollars a year.

Saving Ten Per Cent

The first lowering of prices saves to the consumers 10 per cent on the price of the fish and this saving will amount to three hundred thousand dollars a year. That's almost a thousand dollars a day.

and that would pay interest on seven and a half million dollars. If every family realized that it could get fresh fish every day in the week and that it could get fresh fish at very low prices, the eating of fish would double and the benefits would be greater because fish is good to eat it is easily digested and it is healthful and saves money.

All Are Interested

Representatives of the interests mentioned above will meet every business day. They will have the fullest information as to the available supply and will decide what shall be the maximum retail price which the consumer should pay. Note there are two representatives of the State on this Committee whose duty it is to look after the interest of the public and see that fish is sold as cheaply as fair returns to the fishermen and the dealers will warrant. To get the public to eat fresh fish every day at low prices is the object of this association. Here's how it is proposed to get those results. The fishermen—those who go out in boats on the ocean, bay and rivers to catch the fish and bring them in to Fishermen's Wharf. The wholesalers—those who bring the fish to the city and prepare it for the market and the retailers who buy from the wholesalers and sell to you and

The State of California—through its Market Director and the State Fish and Game Commission. Have formed this organization representing the producer the dealers and the people for mutual benefit.

People Benefit

By this means of advertising there will be created a demand for FISH so much greater than ever before that the fishermen will have steady work at fair pay—the wholesalers will have a much larger business and they will make as much money as before but at less profit for each pound—the retailers will be selling fish six days in the week in larger quantities at smaller profits and the people will get the benefit.

Prices Daily

Part of the plan is to publish on every business day the price to the consumer for the fish that is in the market that day. It starts out with a reduction of 10 per cent from old prices. Fish should retail today at not to exceed these prices:

Sole.....$3.05	Smelt.....$1.64
Tenderloin......124	White Bait......124
Sole......174	Kingfish......08
Sandwich......14	Carp......06
Rock Cod......14	Shad......08
Black Cod......08	Salmon......164
Large Cod......11	Sea Bass......18
Tuna......10	Barramunda......174
Squid......10	Sturgeon......16
Boreaclo......14	Halibut......20
Codfish......14	Mackerel......124
Striped Bass......20

This organization backed by the State of California which sees to it that you get fresh fish at reasonable prices when you buy from the dealers who display the membership sign. Fish is caught every day—you can have fresh fish every day. Our local fish is brought in every evening—it is on sale the next morning.

Lower Cost of Living

Reduce the cost of living add to the variety of the foods on your table and to their digestibility. Your physician will tell you that fish is the food for feeble stomachs and that fresh fish digests first of all.

We have 52 kinds of fish they are all good—some of the best you never heard of—we are going to tell you about them from time to time. There will be a lot of interest taken in cooking fresh fish. Domestic science teachers will bring out ideas in fine fish dishes and thousands of families will for the first time know the delights of new flavors gotten from the daily supply of fresh fish.

We will welcome recipes sent in by our readers. When approved they will be published in these advertisements with or without the author's name as preferred. Simple plain recipes are best—such as a housekeeper in California can follow—rather than the more complicated recipes used by chefs in big hotels or our famous restaurants.

TRIBUNE'S PAGE OF BUSINESS, MARKETS AND FINANCE

MARKET SHOWING NO REACTION IN PRICES Enormous Buying Power on Wall Street Bull Market; Steel Mounts Still Higher

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Operators in stocks who had looked forward to a substantial reaction from the high prices recorded in today's early dealings found little in the course of the general market, following the initial forward movement, to encourage the idea that anything more than quick turns for short account would be profitable at this particular period. Buying power represented was enormous. A large amount of stock came out on the advances, but it was so well absorbed that the impression on prices was small in proportion to the number of shares.

Speculative attention, although fairly well riveted upon United States Steel common, which made a new high record, was directed also toward many parts of the list, including other steel shares, equipment issues, the coppers and Readings, while the general railroad group, especially in the late trading, found more followers than in Monday's operations.

Outside participation was heavy—much heavier than had been reported in many months. The profit-taking sales in the day were heavy in volume and at times in the afternoon moderate recessions from the early high points were recorded.

Railroad stocks were in far better demand as the session approached its close with strength in Erie, New York Central and Santa Fe.

With U. S. Steel leading at a new high record, the market mounted to higher levels, with sales far in excess of 1,000,000 shares.

AMERICAN STOCKS IN LONDON. The London market for American stocks was active and strong today. The section of the stock market today bright spots were U. S. Steel and Reading, the latter leading. The closing was steady.

PROFESSIONAL COMMENT. New York Financial News: It continues to be an industrial market with higher prices expected for steel, equipment and coppers which we think should be bought on reactions. Higher levels are expected for steel, equipment and coppers which we think should be bought on reactions. Higher levels are expected for steel, equipment and coppers which we think should be bought on reactions.

STRONG PRICES IN WHEAT HOLD Pessimistic Crop Reports and Firmness Abroad Keep Up Chicago Quotations.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Rains in the Northwest and strength abroad caused an opening advance in the wheat market today of from 1/8 to 1/4c.

Crop reports continued pessimistic. December opened 1/8 to 1/4c higher, at $1.54 1/2 to $1.55 1/2, and then reacted to $1.54 1/2.

An avalanche of profit-taking sales carried prices an extreme 5c under the top. Toward the close the pressure eased and nearly all the loss was recovered. The close was strong, 1/8 to 1/4c under yesterday.

Corn weakened on rains. The corn close was easy, 3/4 to 1/2c lower. December opened unchanged to 1/2c down, at 74 1/2 to 75 1/2c and sold to 74 1/2c.

The market of corn was reflected in the wheat market. The close was strong, 1/8 to 1/4c under yesterday.

Provisions and hogs, with prices unchanged to 1/2c higher.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Wheat steady; no trading. Barley firm; December, $1.75; May, $1.77 bid, $1.80; ask. Corn 1/2c higher. Corn 1/2c higher. Corn 1/2c higher.

By Hutton private wires: Wheat—December spot wheat 5 1/2c higher. Corn 1/2c higher. Corn 1/2c higher.

Cargoes strong, winter 2's and Manitoba 2's higher, with an improved demand. The market for wheat is strong. The market for wheat is strong.

Provisions and hogs, with prices unchanged to 1/2c higher.

Teacher Is Killed Before His Pupils

CLOVERDALE, Aug. 22.—Francis A. White, principal of the Cloverdale High School, suffered a broken neck and died while swimming in the Russian river near here last night.

White, with a party of students, went to a swimming hole near McCray's. The teacher was exhibiting some fancy dives from the spring-board. He made a deep dive and failed to come up. His body was dragged to shore by students.

White leaves a widow and five small children.

INVESTIGATE DEATHS.
JUNEAU, Alaska, Aug. 22.—The authorities were investigating the death of four men, apparently the result of gas asphyxiation, aboard the fishing schooner Ellis J. which was towed into port here. The vessel was found drifting aimlessly in the current and when boarded three of the crew were dead and two were unconscious.

ENLIST NOW, FIGHT FOR HOME, MOTHER!

Conspicuous Success Will Be Rewarded
With Presents Aggregating
$1250 in Cash

Here's a battle worth fighting—the warfare against that old enemy, Debt, and his army of Lost Opportunities. Enlist in The TRIBUNE's brigade that cheerfully battles in its idle evening hours to fit titles to pictures. That's fighting for home and mother, as well as yourself, will be happier, better, throughout your lives more prosperous and more ambitious, if you should win one of the big slices of $1,250 in cash to be given picture solvers.

THAT IS A GAME WORTH PLAYING. And it's so easy, so simple that everyone should be playing it. You just pick titles from a list of titles—titles that fit the Picturegame uses.

You look at a picture, invent the sort of titles you think might fit it, and then look through the Catalog for the lists of titles published in the paper to see if any such titles are there. The 225 people submitting titles that fit the pictures best will get the $1,250 in cash.

Easy and simple, isn't it—and lots of fun. And with the Catalog and Reply book, you know, you get ALL THE PICTURES, THROUGH NO. 20, FREE. Don't forget that. You can start right now, and, consulting a Catalog which contains all the titles, arranged in alphabetical order, select the titles that fit the pictures best. Do it. Fight for home and mother—and self! Put your idle, wasted moments to pleasant and profitable use. You'll have to work for your money hereafter. Don't miss this opportunity to play for a big cash sum NOW!

Government Land Is Still Open in U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Uncle Sam still has considerable land to give to the enterprising citizen, man or woman, who wishes to establish a home. Secretary of the Interior Lane announced today that more than 250,000,000 acres of land remain in the public domain. These acres are located in twenty-five different states, extending from California to Michigan and from Florida to Washington. California has 20,925,999 acres of this land.

DIVORCE CASE SET.

COMMITTEE SEEKS CLERICAL BACKING

Ministers Are Asked to Help
Work for Law and Order.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—San Francisco clergymen are being urged to co-operate with the work of the law and order committee of the Chamber of Commerce, following a conference yesterday between the clergy and a number of Chamber of Commerce leaders at the St. Francis Hotel. Bishop A. W. Leonard, Rabbi M. J. Meyer and a number of ministers of all denominations were present.

Following the conference, the ministers issued the following statement: We have held a conference with the law and order committee of the Chamber of Commerce for a broad, generous discussion of the work of that organization. We believe that the position of the Chamber of Commerce will be made clear and that the confusion in the public mind cleared when the community knows that there is no attempt to destroy the unions, but that the object of this work is to insure that equal justice shall be meted out.

The law and order committee, through Chairman Frederick J. Koster, issued the following statement: This meeting has afforded an opportunity to acquaint the ministers of San Francisco with the policy of the Chamber of Commerce and to indicate to them a program which justifies the support of every member of the community and the very active support of those whose influence radiates so widely for good as does that of ministers. It was made clear that the Chamber of Commerce's policy is that of securing the very best conditions for all people in the community; that under no circumstances would the Chamber of Commerce lend itself to or take part in any effort to destroy the unions, and that its object

Film Tells Story of Home Tragedy

In "A Woman in the Case," at the Oakland Photo Theater, Pauline Frederick has one of the most difficult roles that has yet fallen to her part. Her husband is accused of murder, everything points to his guilt, and there is a woman in the case. The tense and stirring scene wins for the wife the sympathy and admiration of the audience as she alone stands by her husband and battling against great odds proves his innocence by very clever "detective work." With her strong portrayal of the wronged wife, Miss Frederick heads the bill at T. & D.'s Oakland Photo Theater today and tomorrow.

Denies Elopement With Girl From Oakland

SAN JOSE, Aug. 22.—Lewis Campbell, collector, returned here and denies that he eloped with Mrs. Ida Lyle, for whom a warrant was issued last night charging desertion of her four minor children. Campbell said he procured a room for Mrs. Lyle in Oakland and left her there Saturday afternoon. Eighteen hundred dollars belonging to Mary Donovan, mother of the Lyle woman, went with her.

Mrs. Lyle has not been arrested. Everly Lyle, husband of the woman, was anxious to get out of jail yesterday, threatening to punch Campbell's head, while Campbell sat in court and heard Lyle arraigned on a charge of deserting his children. Identically the charge against his wife.

was to see that justice be administered for the benefit of all, union and non-union, and every element in the community.

The Chamber of Commerce is committed to the policy of developing the community in the interest of all of its people, and naturally strives for that condition where, for the working people, there may be the best wages for the shortest hours and under the most wholesome conditions that can possibly be justified by sound business judgment.
